Peron Offers To Resign His Argentina Post

Labor Federation Sets General Strike To Persuade Him To Stay

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Juan D. Peron offered to resign today. The response was mass demonstrations of strength by his followers who insisted that he continue in office.

The President addressed his offer to the Central Confederation of Labor (CGT) and the leadership of his own Peronista party. Both clearly had been primed to receive and reject it.

The long message said: "The time for fighting has passed. The time has come to work and consolidate our revolutionary gains. I offer my retirement to insure pacification. I do not want to be an obstacle. It is not possible to destroy what we have built."

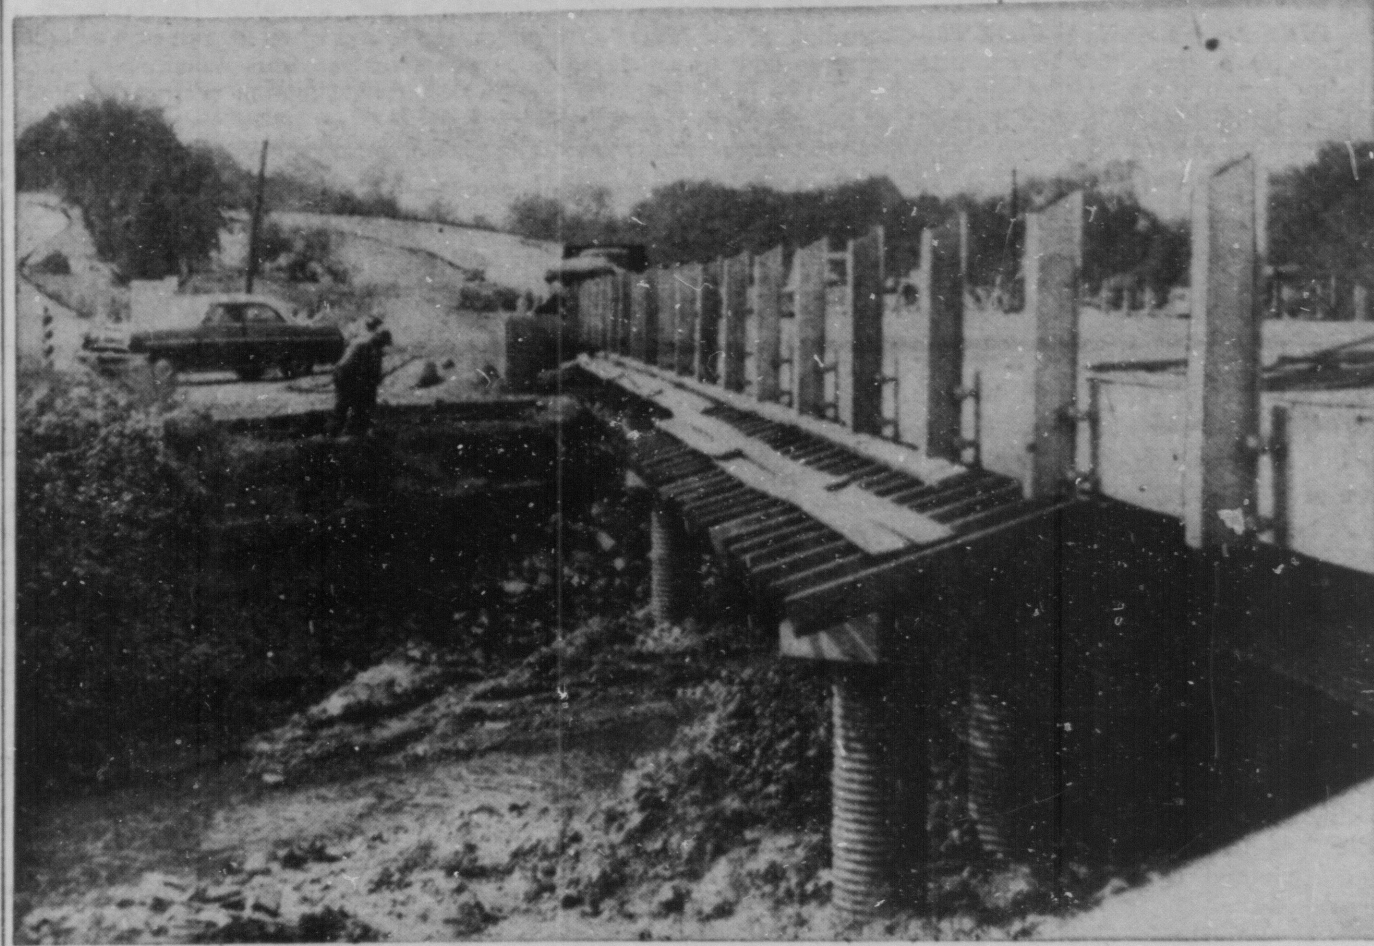

"They speak of civil war," it continued. "I do not believe it will happen here. There will be peace or dictatorship. I have no taste for dictatorship. If that is the solution, someone else will have to do it."

First word of the message came in a broadcast by Hugo di Pietro, CGT secretary, who summoned workers to the Plaza de Mayo in the heart of the capital and to plazas in other cities and towns and instructed them to remain there until the President withdraws his resignation offer.

Di Pietro also called a general "stoppage of activities" throughout the country for 15 minutes beginning at 5 p. m. today, excluding only essential public services. But offices, stores and factories began closing down soon after he spoke.

His broadcast was followed by speeches by Alejandro Leloir and Mrs. Della D. de Parodi, president of the men's and women's Peronista parties. Both demanded the withdrawal of Peron's offer to step out.

Preparations for the massing of workers in Plaza de Mayo outside the main government offices had been made during the night. Trucks and buses had been assembled to transport the demonstrators from outlying sections. Reinforced guards armed with field guns were placed at government buildings in the neighborhood and police detachments were MILLVILLE HILL WORK ADVANCES—Scheduled to be completed the latter part of September, the $400,000 straightening and widening project on Route 14's Millville Hill, east of Salem, is entering its final stages.

In the scene above, workmen are seen drilling out the abutment of the old bridge which is being replaced with the new bridge shown at right of picture.

Workers are widening the road leading from Salem to the bridge this week. Two-foot additions on both sides of the road will bring the total width to 24 feet. Two-inch blacktop will be added.

6 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

1 Critical Following Auto-Truck Collision

Six persons were injured in three traffic accidents which occurred on district highways Tuesday and today.

Two men were admitted to Alliance City Hospital and another was treated at the hospital and released as the aftermath of a truck-trailer collision at 7:20 a. m. today on Rt. 30, at the west edge of East Rochester.

Admitted to the hospital were Curtis Taylor, 20, of Gary, Ind., in critical condition with a fractured left leg, possible skull fracture, possible punctured lung and multiple lacerations of the face and left arm; and Harold Jaunes, 25, of Chicago, multiple abrasions, contusions and lacerations of the body and shock. Jaunes is in good condition.

The two men were occupants of the car. State highway patrolmen have not determined which was the driver.

M. O. Roberts, 47, of Lake Monroe, Fla., driver of the truck, was treated for lacerations of the left leg.

Patrolmen said the truck was traveling west and the auto east when they met almost head-on. The trailer of the truck overturned across the highway, spilling its load of potatoes. The car was heavily damaged. Patrolmen are continuing their investigation.

Two other persons were injured in an accident occurring near the intersection of Routes 224 and 534.

Live Mortar Shell Enlivens Atmosphere At Courthouse

By JOE KUPKA

LISBON — "Look, Mom, no Courthouse."

That could very well have been the comment today if a live 81 millimeter mortar shell in the Columbiana County sheriff's office had gone off.

The shell, found by a railroad section crew along the Pennsylvania tracks about 100 yards south of the crossing at East Rochester Tuesday morning, was brought in to the office by Sheriff Howard J. Clark about 12:05 p. m. yesterday.

The sheriff couldn't tell whether the shell was live so he notified Sgt. Emanuel Bosely of East Liverpool, district Army recruiting officer. Bosely advised the sheriff's office to take the shell out to an open field, dig a hole and bury it. Then he advised putting a charge of dynamite on the shell and discharging the dynamite electrically. He said the dynamite would detonate the mortar shell.

Instead, sheriff's deputies took another bit of his advice and called the Fort Hayes Army barracks in Columbus, asking for a demolition team.

Two soldiers, Lt. W. G. Hawley and Sgt. U. R. Sherrick of the 55th Explosive Ordnance Demolition Squad, arrived about 11:20 p. m. and rendered the shell harmless.

The demolition team put the shell in the back seat of their Army car and were last seen headed toward Columbus.

Before they left, however, the soldiers said that if the shell, which had two pins pulled, had gone off, it could have "blown the whole front of the Courthouse off, killing everybody in that section." They said the shell could have been detonated by merely dropping it, adding that if they had arrived while the Courthouse offices were occupied, they would probably have evacuated the building.

The officers theorized that the shell fell off a freight car carrying scrap iron. They advised leaving a shell lay where it was found.

When Sheriff Clark picked up the shell after it was reported, he put it in the back seat of his car and 10 miles per hour, he said. The shell was in the sheriff's office more than 11 hours.

Pick De Latour To Succeed Him In Tough Post

Grandval Had Relaxed French Rule; Critics Blamed Him For Riots

PARIS (AP)—France today announced the resignation of Gilbert Grandval, her top administrative officer in her troubled Moroccan protectorate.

As expected, Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour was named to succeed Grandval as resident general. The general has been resident general in Tunisia.

Grandval, who went to Rabat July 7 with orders to relax French rule, built up popularity with many Moroccan nationalists but drew the ire of European residents of the protectorate who oppose giving the natives a stronger hand.

The colonists blamed his "weak" policy for the native uprisings Aug. 20 in which more than 1,000 Moroccans and French were killed. Neutral observers considered the uprising were due to the French government's delay in granting some measure of self-rule to the nationalists.

The French hope that Boyer de Latour, who for many years held military commands in Morocco, will satisfy both nationalists and French colonials. During his tenure in Tunisia, the French granted the protectorate a large measure of home rule. While he was in Morocco, Boyer de Latour used a firm hand against unruly Moroccans.

Also slated for displacement is

Completion of Arterial Survey Set Sept. 20

Salem's arterial highway survey is progressing as scheduled and will be completed by Sept. 20, it was revealed today in the Michael Baker Jr. Company's monthly report to Mayor Dean Cranmer.

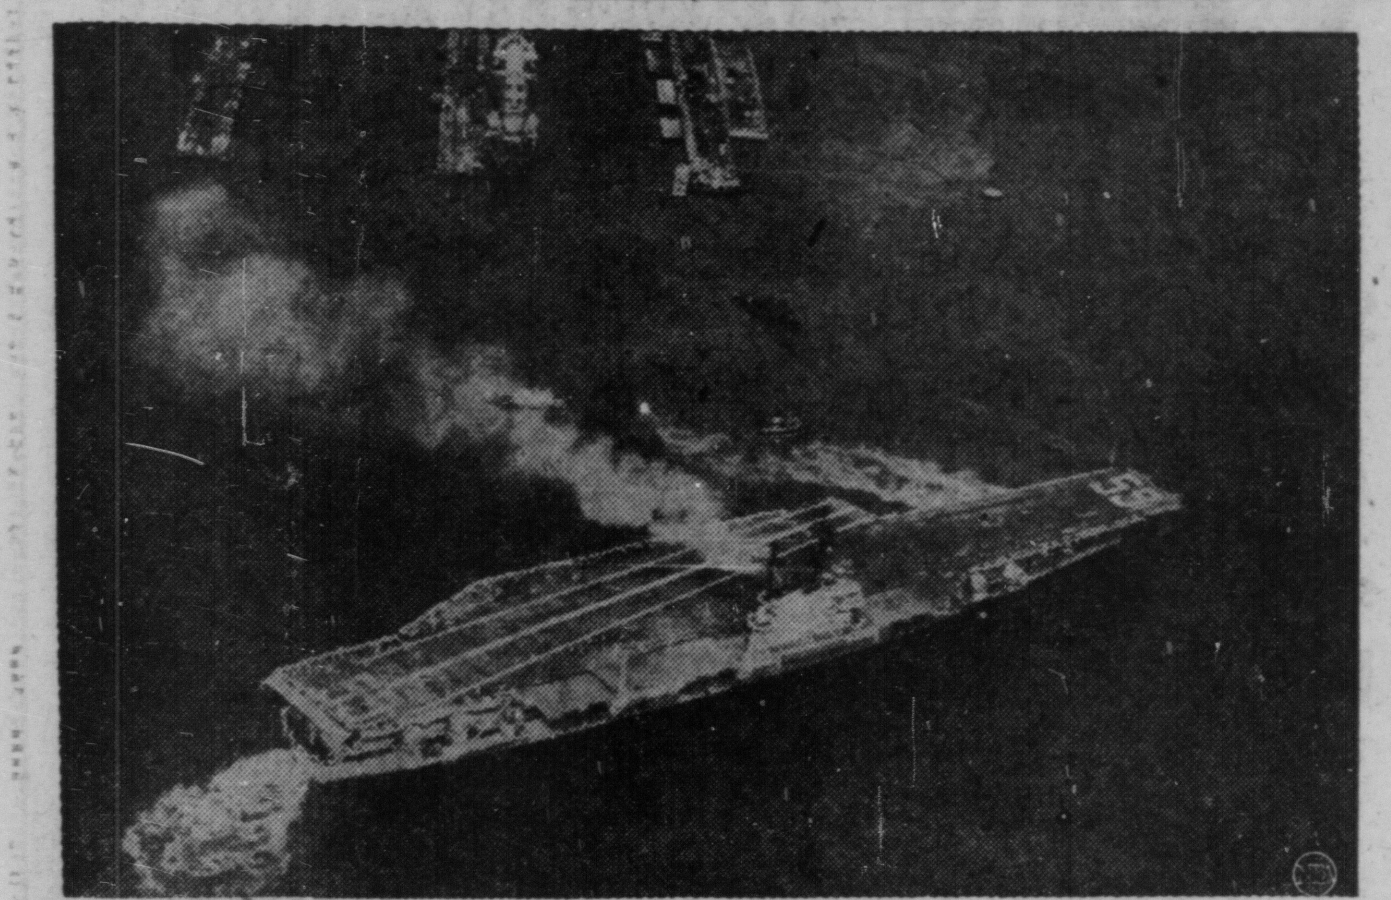

The latest report shows that the basic data collection is one-handed per cent completed. In two of the five total work categories, narrative and cost estimates and preparation of exhibits, the firm is five per cent complete in its work. The engineering study on the project is 20 per cent complete, and in the fifth category, printing, work has not been started yet.

The firm has made a complete aerial survey of the city and surrounding vicinity and will also use the origin and destination survey being completed by the state highway department this week. Data derived from the origin and destination survey will be used by the engineering firm in its overall plan to reroute heavy traffic that now prevails in the city.

Cost of the highway survey is to be $9,000, 95 per cent of which will be reimbursed by the state.

WORLD'S BIGGEST—The USS Forrestal, the world's largest warship, moves away from its dock at Newport News, Va., to begin sea trials. The huge flat-top made its way out into the Atlantic Ocean for a six-day voyage, apparently unconcerned about hurricane Edith, now boiling up in the Atlantic. The enormous 59,650-ton carrier is 1036 feet long. Some 2,000 persons went aboard for the trial run.

Chrysler Corp. Settlement Near

Believe Contract To Call For Lay-Off Pay

DETROIT (AP)—A contract agreement that would head off a threatened strike of 139,000 Chrysler Corp. employees and complete the lineup of the Big Three auto companies on layoff pay plans appeared in the making today.

Negotiators for Chrysler and the CIO United Auto Workers go back to the bargaining table to hammer out final details.

The union has set a strike deadline of midnight tonight, but it is expected to stretch it a bit if necessary to reach a peaceful settlement.

Other Talks Extended

That was done in negotiations with both General Motors and Ford, the other Big Three companies, before precedent-setting lay-off pay plans and other major contract benefits were given to the union in early June.

Chrysler and the UAW reportedly have reached agreement on a plan that would guarantee laid-off workers 60 to 65 per cent of regular take-home pay for up to 62 weeks of idleness. This and other terms of the new Chrysler agreement are expected to follow closely the Ford and GM contracts.

Ford and GM also gave the union wage increases ranging upwards from 6 cents an hour, improved pension plans and other benefits. The average industry wage was about $2.10 an hour when this round of negotiations began.

Seeks To End Strikes
As the Chrysler talks pushed on, UAW negotiators sought to end two strikes idling 60,000 members and to avert a walkout which would idle 24,000 others at American Motors Corp.

The union is seeking layoff pay plans and other "pattern" benefits in these disputes too. This was the situation:

Ohio Farmer Back From Tour In Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Ferris Owen, an Ohio potato farmer who was one of 12 American agriculturists recently touring Russia, returned by plane today and said he intended to be back to work on his farm after lunch.

Just before boarding an airliner for Ohio, Owen told newsmen: "I'll be in my work clothes and out on the farm as soon as I've had my lunch today."

Owen, who farms at Newark, Ohio, was the last of the 12-man touring group to return from Russia. He said he found that country far behind the United States in many ways.

Bearing Burns Out, Forrestal Heads Home

ABOARD THE CARRIER FORRESTAL (AP)—Builders of the giant supercarrier Forrestal still hope to deliver the 60,000-ton flat-top to the Navy on schedule next month, even though bearing troubles have forced postponement of fullpower speed trials.

Everything was going along fine Tuesday when a propeller shaft bearing melted about 100 miles off Cape Henry, Va.

Because of this, officials of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. decided to bring the great warship back to home base Thursday, instead of Friday as originally planned. Changed plans now call for the Forrestal to go through her speed paces Sept. 19.

All other scheduled tests will continue today.

"We still hope to deliver the ship to the Navy on Sept. 29, as scheduled," said H. T. Bent, vice president and works manager of the Newport News firm that built the world's biggest fighting ship. Commissioning ceremonies are scheduled Oct. 1.

Israel Balks At Ceasefire

Demand Egypt Take Blame For Hostilities

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel balked today at agreeing to a ceasefire along the Gaza frontier and demanded that Egypt first accept responsibility for the violence in the border area during the past week.

Egypt had agreed late Tuesday to a cease-fire beginning at 6 p. m. local time Tuesday. It seemed virtually certain, however, that the Cairo government would reject the Israeli demand.

An Israeli spokesman said today his government has no confidence in Egypt's promise to stop shooting, given in response to an appeal to both nations from Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the U.N. Palestine truce commission.

Premier Moshe Sharett's government, the spokesman continued, had replied to Burns with a request that he obtain the Egyptian government's acceptance of responsibility for the past week's "deep penetrations into Israel by terrorist forces of the Egyptian armed forces waylaying and killing civilians, planting mines and seeking to terrorize our population."

An announcement from the U.N. truce commission said Burns, after receiving the Israeli's reply, had tried to get them to go ahead with a cease-fire order because Egypt "in agreeing to the cease-fire had also agreed to put a stop to all raiding, sabotage and mining."

"The Israeli authorities, in view of further incidents reported during the evening of Aug. 30, were doubtful of whether to accept the proposal and it was stated the final decision would not be made until the morning of Aug. 31," the U.N. announcement said.

Tuesday, the unit gave slightly less than 200 chest X-rays at Leetonia and almost 300 at Columbiana. Dr. Rumreich said. About 470 X-rays were given Monday in Lisbon. Dr. Rumreich said the number who have taken advantage of the free chest X-rays so far is 50 per cent above the national average.

Critics Charge Slowness In Road Building

Ohio's Highway Construction Council May Be On Way Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's highway construction council may be on the way out.

Criticism hasounded the council created by a Republican-controlled Legislature as a sort of watchdog over a thoroughfare construction program financed by a half-billion dollar bond issue. Voters approved the bond issue in 1953.

Some critics blamed the council, appointed by Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche, for failing to approve long stretches of new four-lane highway linking major cities or crossing the state.

Others claimed the three-member body failed to act fast enough in approving new construction.

Council members disagreed with those contentions. Chairman Clingman Jackson, Youngstown newspaperman and former state senator, said the council has done a good job in the time it has been operating.

State Fair Steer Sale Set Today

Hampshire Sheep Show Also Ready

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The annual steer sale—the proving factor in steer competition—tops the major livestock events at today's Ohio State Fair.

Another big event on the program is the $2,775 National Hampshire Sheep Show with 259 entries from five states.

Steer competition—the hardest fought in beef raising—reaches its most exciting moment with the annual sale.

The winners of various cattle judging events at the eight-day exposition will be on hand to get the most money for their champion entries.

It takes years to breed and raise these beef on-the-hoof, and for some owners it's like parting with a favorite pet.

One winning entry which probably will be up for sale is the 1,025-pound aberdeen angus with which Jack Weseli of Columbus Grove in Paulding County yesterday won the Grand Champion Steer competition.

Weseli, the 20-year-old open class winner and junior fair reserve grand champion winner at last year's state fair, was awarded the steer banner and the Borden trophy in class. He had come out on top in the 4-H and FFA grand champion steer competition. The day before he had won the open steer class title as a stepping stone to the crown. Weseli's reserve champion last year brought 82 cent a pound.

Kermit Kemmer, 18, of Lancaster, a first-time exhibitor at the fair, took the 1955 reserve championship with a 975-pound Hereford. The Kemmer entry earlier had won the grand champion Hereford crown in open class competition and the open reserve championship over all breeds.

"I'd like to take him (his entry) back to the (Fairfield) county fair," said Kemmer, "but I guess we'll have to sell him here." He said he'll use the money to enter college.

In other cattle judging events yesterday, Silas and F. W. Lamers of New Knoxville won the Brown Swiss Class championship in the Guarima class for cattle born before July 1, 1945. Silas Lamers, earlier had won the third All-American Brown Swiss Futurity at the fair.

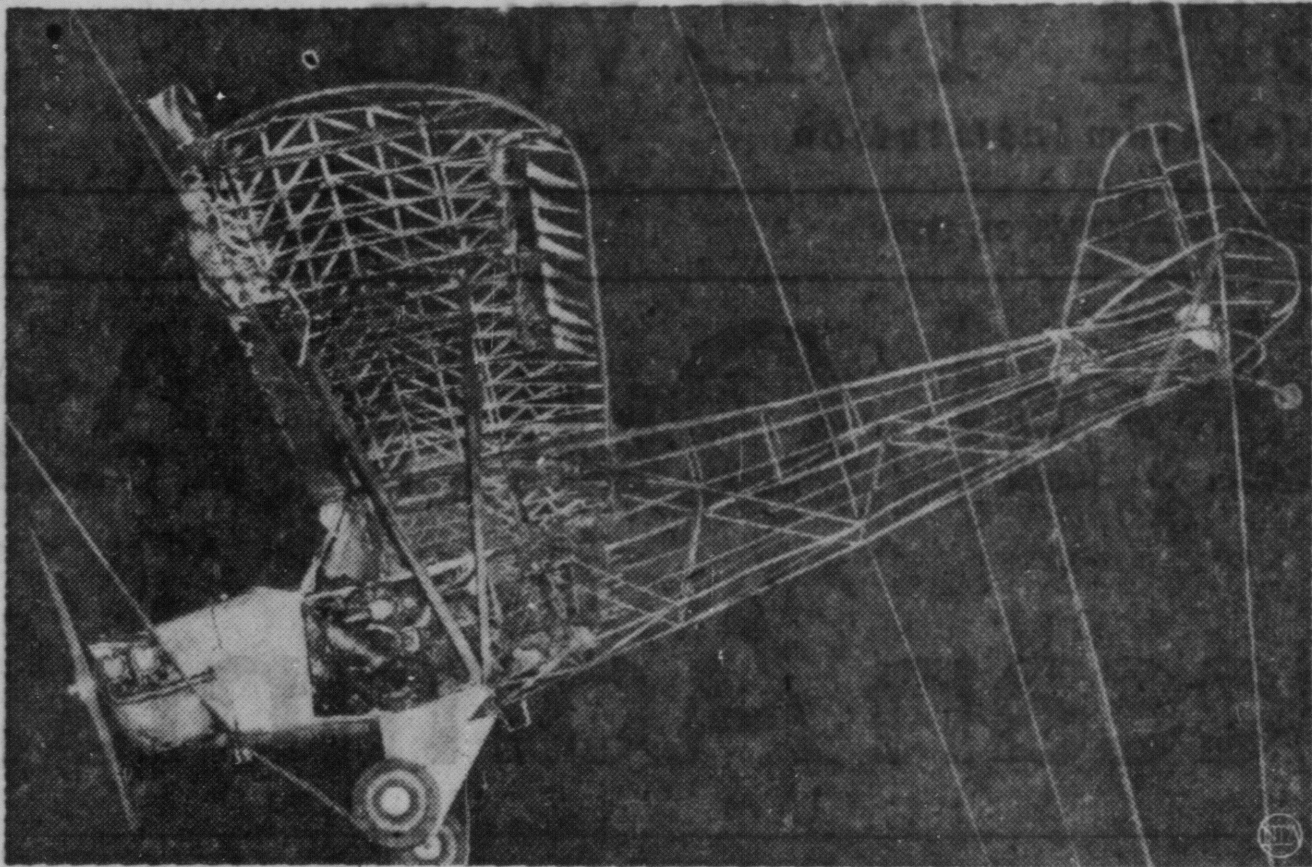

Junior fair winners included James M. Bouton, Mount Vernon, who took the reserve championship in the FFA Guernsey competition. Last night's $300 Western Pony championship dominated the fair's horse show. The winner was the Calico Kid, owned by Robinson Pony Farm of Dunkirk. Sh-Boom of the Brownlee Stables, North Lima, won the reserve championship.

With attendance booming at the fair, Manager Sam Cashman still declined to "stick my neck out" in predicting whether the exposition will wind up in the black this year.

Cashman attributed increased attendance over last year to the newly instituted "Parade of Stars" show, among other things. The "Parade" tonight features Bill Davy Crockett Hayes, television singing star and recording artist. Cashman gave major credit for the fair to a special study group appointed last year to better the exposition.

"I think the people are in good spirits about what they are seeing here this year," he said.

Gloria Lockerman Takes $16,000 Quiz Winnings

NEW YORK (AP)—Little Gloria Lockerman has taken her $16,000 winnings and passed up a chance to spell her way to more wealth on The $64,000 Question television show.

Here's how she figured. "It would be a hard question. It would be a jumble of words I never heard of, and then I'd be lost. I thought the sensible thing to do was to stop where I was. I'd rather go away and be Gloria the undefeated champion than Gloria the girl who lost."

"Besides," the 12-year-old Negro schoolgirl from Baltimore told newsmen after the CBS program last night, "it's $16,000 more than I started out with."

She will net about $11,000 after federal income taxes, according to best estimates. She received $500 to use as she wishes, and master of ceremonies Hal March said the rest of the money will be put into a trust fund for her education.

Marine Corps Capt. Richard S. McCutchen, Worthington, Ohio, reached the $16,000 mark Tuesday night in his quiz category of cooking and foods. He named the flours and geographical origins of five kinds of bread.

Death Toll Of 400 Seen Over Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—A Labor Day weekend traffic death toll of 400 was forecast today by the National Safety Council.

This would be 100 deaths more than would occur if the weekend were not a holiday. The period covered by the estimate will run from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

"Our figures on past experience compel us to estimate the Labor Day traffic death toll at 400," Ned Dearborn, council president, said. "But we are convinced those 100 unnecessary deaths—and more—can be prevented if every driver and pedestrian meets the extra danger with extra care."

The council urged drivers to hold down speed, take care in signaling turns and stops to the drivers behind, keep in the right traffic lanes, pass only when there is plenty of room and keep a safe distance from the car ahead.

Democrats Plan Big Attack On GOP Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new 2 per cent drop in farm prices today spurred Democratic preparations for an all-out attack on Republican agricultural policies.

Announcing formation of a nationwide agricultural advisory committee, Clayton Fritchey, Deputy Democratic national chairman, said his party expects to start "going to town" on the farm issue this fall.

"We regard the farm price situation as one of the most important issues that will come up in the presidential campaign," he said. "We are getting ready to hit it hard."

Fritchey said the Democrats' advisory committee probably will include governors, members of congress and dirt farmers. He said it will be charged with preliminary work on a 1956 farm plank.

Democrats in congress generally have supported a return to rigid, high-level price supports, as opposed to the Eisenhower administration's program of flexible supports.

In its monthly price survey, the Agriculture Department reported yesterday farm prices tumbled another 2 per cent in August. Approaching heavy harvesting and marketing seasons threatened further downturns before the end of the year.

The farm price level in mid-August averaged 23 per cent of the 1910-1914 base period—6 per cent below a year ago, 12.5 per cent below the start of the Eisenhower administration in 1953 and about 25 per cent below the record of February 1951 during the Korean War.

Heavy farm production, steadily increasing surpluses and reductions in federal price supports for some products have contributed to the price trend.

Youth Talk To Rotary Club On Activities

COLUMBIANA — Marilyn Perrine, who attended Buckeye Girls' State at Capital University, Columbus, in June as a Columbiana delegate from the Ladies' Auxiliary of Firestone American Legion Post, and Richard Davis, Randall Bailey and Don Greiner, Columbiana delegates sent to Buckeye Boys' State at Camp Perry by Firestone Post and the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, gave their reports at the meeting of the Rotary Club at Valley Golf Club, Monday evening. All were juniors in Columbiana High School except Davis of Fairfield High.

Miss Perrine told of the organization of counties and cities by the 567 girls at Girls' State, besides 60 house mothers and advisors, and Davis, Bailey and Greiner described the organization by 950 boys of political parties and their state conventions. Greiner described his successful campaign for sheriff. Paul Reeves was program chairman.

Visiting Rotarians were Henry Caldwell, Youngstown, and Harold Benson, Ewing Farrington, George Perrault and Walter Schuck, Salem. Wolfgang Bucholz, German exchange student who will be a senior in Columbiana High this year, was a guest of his sponsor, George Seederly.

THERE WILL BE no meeting of the Rotary Club next Monday evening because of the holiday. The following Monday evening, Sept. 12, the Rotary, Kiwanis and Ruritan Clubs will join in a chicken barbecue at Heck's restaurant.

Following the dinner in pavilion 2, Firestone Park, Monday evening, the board of directors made plans for the street fair, at which the club will have the ice cream concession.

Lester J. Harrold has bought of the State Highway Department the 10-room brick residence of Mrs. E. C. Gerry on Route 46, near the north corporation line, which is in the path of the Route 14 by-pass extension to the present Route 14 at the P. R. Corey farm northwest of town. Mr. Harrold will have the house moved soon to a site adjoining on the north his residence on Route 164, a short distance north of the corporation line. The state will start work soon on the by-pass extension, which will involve a fill and a bridge over Mill Creek just west of the Gerry property.

Kyser's Ladies' Bowling League at a meeting Monday evening, set up rules for the season, which will open Monday evening Sept. 12 with bowling Monday and Friday nights during the season.

THE OHIO STATE champion Quaker City American Legion Band of Salem will be an attraction at the annual Columbiana street fair and homecoming Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. The band will give a concert Friday from 9:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The 50th annual reunion of the Gleckler families was held in pavilion 3, Firestone Park, Sunday, with an attendance of 158. The pavilion was beautifully decorated with yellow garden flowers in keeping with the golden anniversary, and a white four-tier cake, decorated with gold, graced a small center table, laid with gold-trimmed cloth. The cake, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner, was baked by Mrs. Warner. G. Ernest Koch, oldest member of the Gleckler family, offered the invocation at the dinner.

HOW WELL FARMERS LIVE—This map gives you a rough idea of how U.S. farmers—on the average—live in a particular area as compared with those in other areas, as ranked by the Dept. of Agriculture. Families of farmers in black areas live unusually well. If you live in one of the "lowest" areas, it doesn't necessarily mean that your own living standard is low. The area rating is on averages and your own level may be above the average of your area. And even the average family in the lowest category doesn't necessarily have a poor standard as compared with other standards in the world.

Continue Search For Identity Of Woman

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Boone County authorities pinned their hopes today on a detailed dental chart in their search for the identity of a woman whose nude body was found in a "lover's lane" earlier this month.

W. P. McEvoy, county attorney, asked that any persons who has a sister or wife missing to take the dental information to their family dentist for comparative purposes. Then Dr. W. E. Dilts, Florence, Ky., dentist, should be contacted.

The victim, aged 16 to 25, had dark brown, long hair. Here is the description of her teeth: Teeth No. 1, 12 and 16 in the upper jaw are possible extractions. No. 19 in the lower jaw was extracted from five to 10 years ago and No. 30 was taken out between six and 18 months ago. Teeth Nos. 32 and 17 were unerupted. No. 10 was pitted and No. 18 had a cavity.

Comparison of dental charts showed the body was not that of Marjorie Baumstark, 18, of Youngstown, Ohio, McEvoy said. Mrs. Frank Baumstark and Ted O'Connor, chief of the Juvenile Bureau of Youngstown Police, conferred with Sheriff Byron Kinman and McEvoy yesterday.

Dr. Dilts said there was "no resemblance" in the missing girl's teeth and those of the unknown victim.

Miss Baumstark was last seen Dec. 31 when she cashed a check at a Youngstown bank.

Apple Growers To Fete Buyers At Dinner

LISBON — A discussion on apple marketing will be held when apple growers of Columbiana and Mahoning counties entertain buyers at a dinner meeting Thursday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. at Heck's Restaurant, near Columbiana, Floyd Lower, Columbiana County extension agent, announced today.

A tour of district orchards is also planned in the afternoon, Lower said. Growers and buyers will meet at the apple storage building in Greenford at 2 p.m. and will visit the orchards of Frank Baird and A. A. Less in Mahoning County and of Edward Kirk, Albert T. Hartley, I. P. Lewis and Dan Simmons in Columbiana County.

County Education Group To Plan Fall Dinner

LISBON — Members of the program and arrangements committee of the Columbiana County Education Association will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Courthouse office of James L. McBride, county superintendent of schools to plan the association's annual fall dinner meeting. Chairman of the committee is Lorin Ruff of East Rochester, assistant county superintendent of schools assisted by Frank Solak of Salineville, principal at United Local School; Mrs. Phyllis Trotter of East Liverpool RD 2, teacher at Calcutta School; Miss Helen Noling of Kensington RD 1, teacher at Franklin Local School; and McBride.

Truman For President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Former Chief Executive Logical Choice For 1956

Lawrence

Doing The Best He Can

Harry Truman is a staunch party man; there can be no quarrel about that. He was given the Democratic vice-presidential nomination in 1944 to make sure the presidency would fall into the hands of a staunch party man when Franklin Roosevelt died. Being staunch has been his career.

Truman never shirked his responsibilities as a wheelhorse. Like him or not as a symbol of government, no Democrat of his day has worked harder in behalf of the party organization. At the moment, no one is working harder with less to gain than the man who was tapped for the presidential responsibility in 1944 and now is out of the running for public office.

He has taken on his shoulders the heavy responsibility of trying to make an issue about the Eisenhower administration. It is a thankless job. But by being willing to work at it, Truman is sparing Democrats who may be in line for party nominations next year from wearing themselves out a year in advance.

There is no issue about the Eisenhower administration, as Truman well knows. It is his job to pretend there is, in order to keep the stump warmed up for the presidential hopefuls when they are ready to take over in 1956. He is being a wheelhorse—an organization man—a Democrats' Democrat.

He is being what he never has pretended he isn't—a man who likes the two-party system and believes in working at it.

Machines Make The Difference

Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel Corp., has made an unusually clear statement about machinery's effect on living standards in the latest issue of Republic Reports.

The Japanese steel industry he says, turns out between six and seven million tons a year with 120,000 employees. Republic Steel, with 68,000 employees, turns out 10,250,000 tons.

The reason it takes 17 thousand people for each million tons of steel in Japan but only 6,000 for each million tons in the United States is machinery.

Machinery has made high wages possible. It is the secret of the high American standard of living. "Our living standards are based largely on the amount of money invested in better and more machines and plants," declares President White.

Although he does not refer to the newest idea in machinery — automation, by which machines control machines — the connection is obvious. More efficient production is imperative to catch up to the ever-higher wage rates demanded and obtained by organized workers. Even more than employers, employees, themselves, are stimulating automation by forcing employers to find more efficient machines.

Horsepower And Horsensense

Although auto makers have been continually making cars safer to drive and ride in, their sales pitch has been power and speed.

Power steering, power brakes, safety glass, wrap-around windshields, glareless headlights, tubeless tires, body and frame improvements are but a few of the safety innovations introduced in recent years with such little fanfare that buyers considered them luxury talking points rather than safety advantages.

In their 1956 models, some car makers are offering safety belts, an innovation which was introduced some time ago but has met with buyer-resistance. Other safety features coming up include doors that will not fly open after a crash and a steering wheel designed to protect the driver from injury from the steering column.

All these features, plus many more still on drawing boards or in experimental stages will not provide a cure-all for highway hazards. That will come later. Eventually some inventor will devise an electronic brain that will co-ordinate horsensense and horsepower.

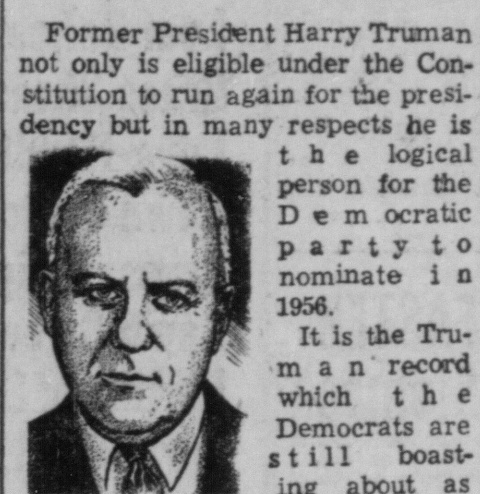

No Biting In The Clinches

For obvious reasons, everybody in Washington next year will be trying to get credit for being in favor of a tax cut. There is beginning to be danger of biting in the clinches.

The best way to discourage rough play in this matter would be for everybody who believes all the people cannot be fooled all the time to keep an eye peeled for skulduggery in tax-cutting.

Anyone who cuts taxes without cutting spending at a time when the government is running in the red is not a benefactor of the taxpayers but a cynic who believes you can fool all the people all the time.

No political credit is owing to anyone who thinks voters are too dumb not to know the difference between cutting taxes without cutting expenditures and cutting expenditures so taxes can be cut legitimately.

Truman

Former President Harry Truman not only is eligible under the Constitution to run again for the presidency but in many respects he is the logical person for the Democratic party to nominate in 1956.

It is the Truman record which the Democrats are still boasting about as having been so much better than the Eisenhower record, and it is a return to Trumanism which the country may expect if it elects a Democrat to the White House. For, just as in the 1952 campaign Adlai Stevenson didn't dare to repudiate Trumanism, so in 1956 the Democratic nominee will likewise have to campaign in defense of the same doctrines or else risk the loss of the former President's "give 'em hell" technique in the campaign. Thus, it is more logical that Harry Truman make the race himself.

Once before in history a Democratic president—Grover Cleveland—after a lapse of four years was elected again. The Congress specifically exempted Harry Truman from the constitutional ban against any service in the presidency beyond two terms.

Some will argue that Truman's age, 71, is a deterring factor but his contemporary, Sen. Barkley is still in public life at 77.

MENTION OF BARKLEY recalls a point that maybe Truman would like to forget. For it was big unionism which blacklisted the Kentuckian when it came to selecting a presidential nominee in 1952. Truman now says that the Republican administration is a captive of big business, but the country will remember that big unionism dominated the Truman administration.

Nothing that Truman can suggest by way of alleged harm done by the present administration in protecting the free enterprise system from sabotage can possibly compare with the injury to constitutional practice recorded when Truman violated the Constitution in seizing the steel industry. This was done because, as the late Phil Murray intimated in one of his speeches prior to the seizure, Truman had pledged himself in a private deal not to use the Taft-Hartley Act.

No president of the United States in all history ever seized an entire industry and, when Truman did so, he was promptly rebuked by the Supreme Court of the United States.

CURIOSITY ENOUGH, none of the "left wingers," with their stooge organizations, came out to defend the rights of business men as free men under the Bill of Rights of the Constitution. There was no such solicitude about legal procedures and "due process" exhibited then as there is now when a person who is merely asked whether he has ever been a Communist pleads the Fifth Amendment.

Whatever the alleged damage of "McCarthyism" aboard, nothing hurts the prestige of the United States more in foreign countries—particularly in Asia—than the summary dismissal of Gen. MacArthur by President Truman without so much as a hearing.

The supreme commander of our Far Eastern Forces, who had admittedly done such a wonderful job in postwar Japan, not only wasn't given a hearing—which it is so often claimed every government employee is entitled to get—but he wasn't even given the courtesy of being notified ahead of the public announcement that he was fired. He got the first news on the radio.

THE DISREGARD of the Constitution, however, is seizing the entire steel industry and in dismissing Gen. MacArthur without a hearing are not the only mistakes which Trumanism will have to answer for in the next campaign irrespective of whether the former president is the next nominee or has a hand in picking the party candidate.

There is still the matter of neglect of duty with respect to Harry Dexter White. Truman has never explained it.

He has applied the Fifth Amendment sort of philosophy by refusing to appear before a House committee which subpoenaed him to explain the circumstances of the White case.

While presidents have never been required to answer a subpoena, ex-presidents have no such legal right to refuse to testify and some of them actually have testified before congressional committees when invited.

Truman, if inclined to be formal about it, might have refused to accept a subpoena but could nevertheless have responded voluntarily to an invitation.

AS IT IS, the country does not know even today why, in the face of testimony by James F. Byrnes that J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI had warned Truman about White, there were sent nevertheless within the next thirteen months two letters of commendation to White signed by Truman.

The Democratic party has never seemed to care to clear up this mystery. But in the 1956 campaign, which the former president evidently believes should be of the "give 'em hell" variety, it is not unlikely that some of the Republicans will ask for the answers.

They will ask for specific assurances that, if the Democratic party comes back to power, it will not again be as soft in handling Communists as it was during the 20 years it occupied the executive branch of the government.

Americans Bounce Back

By JAMES FREE

Uncle Sam's self-help loan programs — now swinging into action in flood-disaster areas of the north-east—have a history that proves the ability of Americans to make a comeback after a hardluck blow.

Over the years, government losses on thousands of loans of this type have been negligible. And the do-it-yourself financial aid programs have served as an invaluable supplement to direct emergency relief operations.

Loans are available to flood damage victims from two federal agencies.

Those whose homes or business establishments have been damaged may get 3 per cent long-term loans from the Small Business Administration. SBA has a revolving fund of more than 15 million dollars that can be tapped, and the Budget Bureau could authorize a greater amount if demand warrants it. Home loans can run as much as 20 years, business loans up to 10.

Farmers and farm operators may call on SBA or utilize a loan program tailored for their needs by Farmers Home Administration. Loans granted by the latter agency are primarily for replacement of damaged crops, though this necessarily often covers farm buildings. Its present loan reserve of more than 29 million dollars is available on the same 3 per cent long-term basis as SBA loans.

Both programs are designed to help the disaster victim whose assets have been wiped out to the extent that he cannot get a loan through regular bank or commercial channels.

If past records are any sign, a vast majority of disaster loans yet to be made to sufferers from the recent floods will be paid back on schedule and in full.

SBA has been making disaster loans only a little over a year, so its experience in repayment is not yet long enough to be significant. But so far it notes excellent repayment rates on its more than 1,300 outstanding SBA disaster loans totaling more than 9 million dollars. Of that amount, $2,800,000 went to 376 victims of Hurricane Hazel last year, and $2,000,000 to 394 victims of earlier 1954 hurricanes Carol and Edna.

There seems to be good reason to assume that SBA will have as good luck on repayment as did the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which handled this type of disaster loan from the 1930's to June 30, 1954. RFC granted some 30,000 disaster loans for a total of more than 29 million dollars and its collection losses were less than 5 per cent.

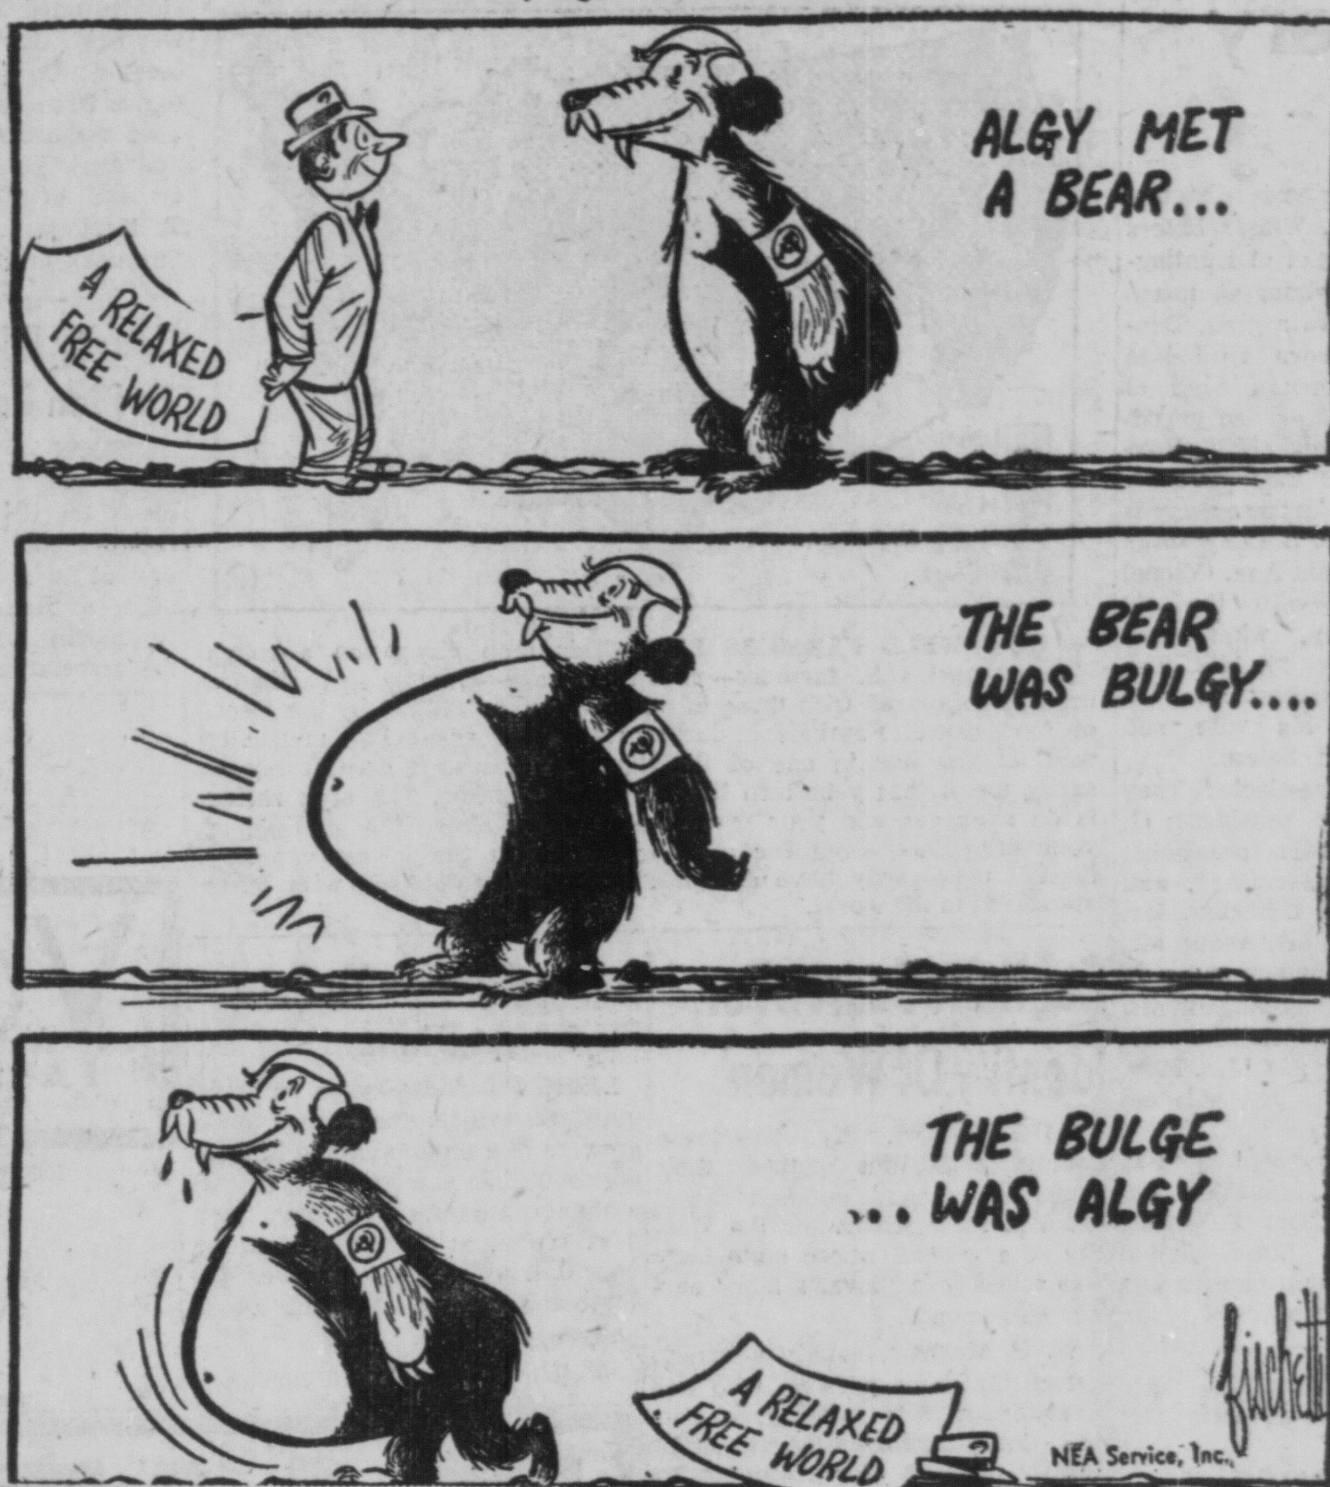

The Farmers Home Administration began its disaster loans during the 81st Congress only a few years ago. It has already been paid back 90 million of the 252 million dollars lent out, with a mere $247,000 written off as bad debt. That's only a small fraction of 1 per cent loss.

Old Saying, Modern Lesson

Leninist Policy

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Soviet sweetness and light has finally come by a name, "The Leninist Foreign Policy of the Soviet State." The name appears in the speech of the chairman of the Council of Ministers of U. S. S. R., N. A. Bulganin, on Aug. 5, 1955. Bulganin said: "The Soviet government delegation at the Geneva Conference consistently pursued the peace living Leninist foreign policy of the Soviet State, responding to the vital interests of the Soviet people, and the interests of preserving peace and security in the whole world."

The very foundation of this policy was, is, and remains the great Lenin principle of peaceful coexistence of states belonging to different social systems. The government of the Soviet Union will undeviatingly continue to pursue a foreign policy directed toward a further easing of tension, toward strengthening trust in relations between states, and toward the preservation of stable and durable peace and security, basing itself on the fact that such a policy responds to the deep-rooted interests and the very great desire of all peoples — the desire for peace and tranquility."

THE USE OF this term marks a revolution in Soviet thought and activity which needs to be studied and analyzed. The phrase used to be "Leninist - Stalinist." Both Lenin and Stalin are dead. Stalin is not only dead, he is obliterated. How is it possible to wipe away more than 30 years of history?

We are not only to forget history, but the psychology of a people over this long period.

Stalin was a tough guy, but was Lenin sweet and gentle? I used to see Lenin at the Smolny Institute in Petrograd in 1917-18. I sat through the sessions of the Constituent Assembly which was to give the Russian people a constitution — and I saw Lenin smash that meeting as one smashes a glass with his heel.

Nevertheless, there is a reminder of something in the current emphasis on Lenin and the rejection of Stalin.

IT GOES BACK to 1921, when Lenin instituted NEP, the New Economic Policy, a mixed capitalist - socialist policy and procedure, designed to give Soviet Russia time and facilities to establish Socialism as a road to Communism. Stalin smashed the New Economic Policy and instituted a regime of hunger, particularly in the Ukraine, to do by brutality what Lenin hoped to achieve by foreign trade and concessions to foreigners.

So now, under the leadership of Nikita Khrushchev, there is a reversion to the less drastic methods of Lenin, but it comes after Stalinism which altered the map of Europe, eliminated some 15 free countries in the world and made them satellites of the Kremlin, imposed upon the United States what seems to be a permanent military budget and created an unmanly atmosphere of distrust and even hate among the nations of the earth.

EXCEPT FOR ONE or two public statements in 1941-42, when Great Britain and the United States went to the rescue of Soviet Russia, Stalin never said anything like this: "Despite different positions on the essence of the problems under discussion, the heads of government of the United States, Britain, and France, just as we, showed goodwill and a sincere striving to find a common language and to mark paths for the solution of international questions which are most significant for the cause of general peace and security."

So, we are to have an era of goodwill, but when one hears that a sort of voluntary censorship is coming out of Washington to the effect that nothing unpleasant is to be said about Russia or the Russians, true or false, is one not to gain the impression that we are to be brain-washed?

ARE WE NOT to note that the Resolution of the U. S. S. R. Supreme Soviet explains the era of sweetness by the following Soviet virtues:

"This easing of international tension was facilitated in the first place by the cessation of the war in Korea, as well as of the military activities in Indochina; the concluding of the State Treaty with Austria; the normalization of relations between the U. S. S. R. and Yugoslavia which opened the path for developing friendship and collaboration between the two countries; the successful holding of the conference of countries of Asia and Africa in Bandung; and the visit to the U. S. S. R. of Prime Minister Nehru of India, as a result of which friendly relations were still further strengthened between the U. S. S. R. and India."

Only Ten Billion More

By TRUMAN TWILL

The chairman of the American delegation to the International Astronomical Conference, Dr. Jason J. Nassau, director of the observatory at Case Institute of Technology, gave all of us something to think about when he predicted the world will end in ten billion years.

The end will come when the sun turns itself out, which it would do in the next ten billion years at its present rate of consumption, he explains. The prediction might be off a few billion years one way or the other.

But nothing could be sillier than a fatuous wisecrack that none of us will be around to worry about it. Once we have made up our minds that nothing is forever—not even the earth or the little subdivisions of the universe in which the solar system the earth moves in is situated—there are all kinds of things to worry about.

At that point the Big Showdown becomes a certainty—the instant when the Interplanetary Chronicle will publish under the heading of News From Near And Far that the planet commonly called earth by its inhabitants but listed in the Official Space Gazette as 159,600,286,308,001 has gone phht.

It might not happen for ten billion years, although it would start to happen billions of years before that. In fact, it started to happen a few billion years before now. It is later than most of us are willing to admit it is—billions of years later.

The idea of this is that nothing clears the mind like the certainty that nothing is forever—that all things must pass—and that the more things change the more they will be the same. Suddenly, all unimportant things cease to seem important.

It doesn't matter whether Eddie and Debbie get married, or whether Dick and Rita become reconciled.

The human inexcusables who seem to be ganging up on the decent people are easier to bear.

The fellow who keeps going up the ladder by stepping on the fingers of the people behind him and licking the boots of the people ahead of him becomes no more than an amusing spectacle; he isn't really going anywhere.

It even becomes possible to drive in traffic without popping a cork, or to bear up bravely under annoyances caused by rudeness, carelessness, viciousness and inefficiency.

The idea is to make the most of everything while it lasts because it is not going to last forever. And since almost everybody's idea of making the most of anything is to be as decent about it as he knows how to be, the world improves automatically whenever its human inhabitants have any occasion to dwell on a terminal point for the earth's existence.

Many thanks to Dr. Nassau for the prediction that it will all be over in ten billion years. This is the winter I won't fool with storm windows. It won't really matter if the screens have been left in when the sun runs out of heat. This is the excuse I have been looking for as fall approached and I am only sorry I didn't know about it last spring before I put in the screens.

So They Say

All in all, I don't suppose we could have gotten a bigger dose of misery. But one thing, we feel we went through it (Connecticut flood) together and we're going to recover together.—Jim Markham, Torrington, Conn., street department clerk.

Even if I were guilty—and I'm not—it shouldn't reflect on the boy. That's guilty by heredity or something like it.—Mrs. Jean Grisez, whose son, Staman Norion Gaston, was denied a Naval Reserve commission because of her alleged Communist leanings.

Great Highway Mystery

What is there about a seat behind the wheel of an auto that makes a man a stinker? Not an amateur or semi-pro stinker but a pro, certified and 100 per cent one? All the elemental rules of courtesy, restraint, good will, kindness and tolerance disappear.

The man who takes off his hat in elevators, pats little children on the head and is nice to dogs, glares, leers, grimaces, shouts, curses and adopts "Mow 'em down!" as his motto toward young and old on the city streets.

The kid who is a model of politeness on his feet gets into a motor car and cries: "Gangway or a creepy character!"

Women who have just been to a PTA meeting, urging better manners for the small fry, tear off fenders, screams at children and scare pedestrians up trees on their way home. What goes?

IT SEEMS TO US that the auto picture has demonstrated that a human being, when given a sense of luxury, affluence and power, becomes an unbearable character, straight, place and show.

In a position to be tough, ruthless, inconsiderate and lord of all he surveys, his superiority complex goes for double or nothing. There are no more overbearing, pompous, dangerous humans on the roads than you will find driving powerful instruments that call for wisdom, control and a regard for the other fellow.

Many a gent who has admirable qualities everywhere else becomes a punk in 3-D when driving a car. If we were trying to round up a top list of entries for the All-American Carnival of Heels, Popoffs, Loudmouths and Homicidal Nincompoops we would do it by standing on any street and watching motorists for no more than 15 minutes.

THERE ARE MILLIONS of drivers who could top honors among characters who shoot fish in barrels, poison dogs, trip up cripples, cut the leash on Seeing-Eye Dogs, set fire to orphan asylums, dance at funerals, shoot robins, tell funny stories at wakes, upset baby-carriages, play mean tricks on old ladies, cheat at solitaire, deal from the bottom of the deck, throw rocks at pigeons, put poison in guppy tanks, toss stink bombs into nurseries, drive nails into the tires of visiting nurses and pull tail feathers out of baby chicks. We prefer all those fellows on Post Office "Wanted" photos, most of the Rogues Gallery inmates, Billy the Kid, Jack the Ripper, Stinky the Hyena, and plenty of guys doing life stretches as killers.

In fact the latter seem comparatively refreshing. For how much longer can the "Oh, let's be a stinker!" mood be stood for? We're just asking . . . and asking it from a tree-top.

WALTER HOVING and Bonwit-Teller have acquired the famous jewelry house of Tiffany. . . Well, the Bonwit store has been only a stone's throw away anyhow. . . Would you say the merger was a marriage in which there was no trouble whatever in getting a suitable ring?

American Sheep Producers Council has taken a poll on the matter of a national advertising campaign. . . Did anybody go to sleep counting sheep-vote votes? Come to think of it, sheep are not well advertised and could use a big time advertising campaign. . . They have had to depend on gags about insomnia and diplomats. Millions think of sheep as little white things that jump over the foot of beds. It is about time they were told that they produce meat, wool and Yuletide cards.

Mrs. Ethel Quigley, Chicago wife of a striking workman, may have started something in looking out her husband with a stern. "Our kids need milk." There are lots of other mothers whose husbands are making it tough for the family. How? Because the men won't go back to work while negotiations are on. If the women get to asserting themselves in strikes, the labor picture can undergo a terrific change.

A GOOD MANY AMERICAN homes were left gasping by the news that there are children's summer camps operated by people who defy and deride a State Legislative Committee trying to find out if the Commie line is taught in them. Imagine a kiddie-camp operator holding that it is none of YOUR business whether the camp is a tool of a conspiratorial party!!!

Sheriff Guilty On Morals Charge

Begins Serving Year Term for Contributing

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (U)—Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago began serving a one-year sentence in the Gallia County Jail today following his conviction on a morals charge.

A juvenile court jury here last night found the 51-year-old Trago guilty of contributing to the delinquency of Gallipolis Airman David L. Hatfield by making indecent proposals to the 17-year-old youth. The charge is a misdemeanor.

Trago, father of 13 children, sat impassively as Athens County Judge Francis White sentenced him to a year in county jail, plus a $1,000 fine and the cost of the prosecution. White heard the case by assignment.

Just before the judge pronounced sentence, Trago jumped to his feet and said, "I still say I'm now guilty."

Two or three of his children and several relatives wept. Trago's wife, Carrie, wore a bitter expression but showed no outward emotion.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated three hours and 47 minutes before returning the verdict. Then they were polled and each juror answered that he or she had voted on the decision.

Trago's attorney, John A. Staker of Portsmouth, told a newsman that "appeal is being considered."

Mary Nicholson Snyder, Jackson County prosecutor, said Trago will continue as sheriff until otherwise removed. She added it was her understanding the removal could be accomplished either through a taxpayers' petition to common pleas court or by order of the governor.

State Attorney General C. William O'Neill said he was not sure of the procedure, and Gov. Frank J. Lausche could not be reached for immediate comment.

During the near month-long trial, the prosecution contended Trago picked up Hatfield near Jackson and drove him to Gallipolis, making immoral proposals along the way.

The young airman testified that when they reached Gallipolis the evening of July 1, Trago parked and repeated the proposal. Hatfield said he struck the sheriff and ran. Several Gallipolis residents testified they saw a car with the Jackson County sheriff's markings in the vicinity where the offense took place.

Trago, however, denied he was in Gallipolis at the time. He testified he was in Jackson serving legal papers. At least two defense witnesses said they saw him in Jackson at the time the prosecution said the incident occurred.

Special assistant prosecutor William P. Cherrington, summing up to the jury, said Trago had sped back to Jackson to establish an alibi for his whereabouts.

"If he (Trago) is innocent, said Cherrington, "we don't want to keep him from returning to his wife and children. But if he is guilty we do not want to turn him loose on society where he might again molest and kill some little kid to keep his mouth shut."

Trago was acquitted on a similar morals charge in Jackson County several months ago. Sixteen similar indictments are still pending against him.

Trago now is serving the third year of his first four-year term as sheriff in Jackson County, prosecutor Mrs. Snyder said. He is the only Democratic office-holder in the county.

Raps Ohio Cities' Lack Of Initiative On Road Projects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—The chairman of the State Highway Construction Council Tuesday said he fears "many cities in Ohio" won't take advantage of council funds available for urban road projects.

The chairman, Cline Jackson, made the statement in a news release that took official notice of occasional friction between the council and the state highway department—both working on the same road program.

One-third of the half-billion dollars planned for major thoroughfare projects has been designated for urban projects. Said Jackson:

"Some cities have made excellent progress with their arterial plans and providing money for their share of the costs of projects. Other cities are far behind."

A council spokesman gave this city-by-city breakdown:

"Warren has nothing. Canton and Massillon are slow in producing money. A number of smaller cities just haven't done anything—like Marion, which is an outstanding example."

"Akron has progressed with plans and has a vote scheduled this fall for financing projects. Toledo hasn't 'fixed' the money for its share of the cost. Youngstown is slow getting plans ready."

"Cincinnati is doing the best of all—has both plans and money ready. Cleveland is doing a pretty good job."

Jackson said the council "has full confidence" in the highway department and its officials. He said:

"The highway department has moved so rapidly on occasion that it has failed to get proper authorizations from the council. This has resulted in some tangles between the department and the council, but they have been worked out to the best interests of the state's highway department."

In recent months there have been newspaper reports of friction between the two highway agencies. The council and department have suffered on specific projects, on how much money should be spent and how much work is needed.

2 Children Rescued From Old Ice Box

FORT WORTH, Tex., (U)—Two small Negroes were rescued Tuesday from an abandoned ice box where they faced possible suffocation.

Juvenile detectives checking vandalism heard a pounding in side the box at Arthur King's garage. Inside they found King's stepson, James Yates, 10, and his halfbrother, James King, 11.

King said his stepdaughter, Oma Thompson, 8, apparently had put the boys in the box and forgotten about them.

Ohio Legionnaires Aid Flood Victims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Neighboring Pennsylvanians often pitched in to help Ohio in flood times, so the Ohio American Legion today said it would return the gesture with aid to eastern Pennsylvanians.

Legion headquarters here urged the 735 local Ohio posts to collect sheets, blankets, kitchen utensils and canned goods for shipment to flood victims in Pennsylvania.

The supplies would be sent to East Stroudsburg and Doylestown, two of the hardest-hit cities in the wake of hurricane Diane.

The Ohio Legion, drawing on the disaster relief fund created during the Ohio River floods of 1937, started the drive with a $1,000 check. Legion officials said Youngstown residents, cooperating in a drive started by Youngstown Post No. 15, already have delivered more than 10 tons of canned goods, clothing and furniture to residents of East Stroudsburg.

Nomination of officers took place, and they will be balloted upon Sept. 9. The grange fair was announced for Sept. 18.

Judith Howenstine, pianist, opened the program presented by the juvenile grangers, and Robert Kibler gave the safety lesson. Roberta Kibler's reading was "Entertaining Sister's Beau." Larry Fryogle, juvenile master, conducted a quiz on grange ritual.

Norman Barnett, master of the subordinate grange, presented Mrs. William Summers with a gift in behalf of the grange for her work as associate matron of the juvenile grange. Another gift went to Mrs. Mildred Fitzpatrick, juvenile matron.

Grange pins, gifts of the grange, were presented Thomas Gable, a past master of juvenile grange, and to Barbara Cobbs, lecturer, who were selected as the most cooperative boy and girl in the past year. Refreshments concluded the meeting.

Mrs. R. A. Wisner of West View, Pa., returned home Saturday after spending the week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Stewart Hubler of N. Howard Ave. Mr. Wisner and son, Donny, are on a fishing trip to Duluth, Minn.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There was a president of the AFL by the name of Sam Gompers who had to go to work in worn bedroom slippers because neither he nor the labor federation could afford a pair of shoes. That was some 70 years ago when the unions were a gita thing for reforms which they won and now celebrate in the official holiday which gives you this upcoming long weekend.

In 1955, American labor heads into Labor Day as the world's largest, most powerful and wealthiest labor coalition. It is big time capitalism in its own right — with about 1½ billion dollars of its own treasuries and welfare and pension funds invested in Wall Street's common stock.

This billion and a half dollars worth of Stock Exchange securities is in addition to the billions invested in government bonds, high-grade corporate bonds, mortgages, real estate and a small percentage of preferred stock.

THIS IS AN estimate made by experts who have been handling labor's financial investments since the post-war upsurge of union treasuries and the launching of the multi-billion dollar welfare and pension funds.

One of these experts, Martin E. Segal, whose firm manages some 500 such funds and advises scores of unions on investments, discloses that the unions and their funds are actually putting anywhere from 15 to 25 per cent of their money in Wall Street. This survey was completed just a month ago.

It's a long way, indeed, from the days when Sam Gompers used an old freight crate as a desk in a backyard hut for the AFL's office.

Labor can well celebrate, for in the words of its own leader, George Meany, "Labor never had it so good."

THERE JUST IS no way to estimate the full assets of America's unions. Guy Brown, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, put it this way recently when asked about the wealth of his own influential union:

"No itemization of the financial wealth of this organization, has ever been made to my knowledge. Our total financial worth would include various companies, properties, our insurance associations, all owned by the grand office, and then the properties assembled by our local and regional offices."

"Such a figure is almost impossible to arrive at. I doubt whether any agency, governmental or otherwise, has ever made a study of all these factors concerning ours or any other union."

THIS IS TRUE of almost every union — and virtually every union today has investments of some sort, including, literally, the butchers, the bakers and the candlestick makers.

At this minute the Bakery and Confectionery Union, led by Jim Cross, is exciting interest. It has a pension fund into which the employers throw some 4 million dollars a year. There are other contributions — and the total income will soon exceed 20 million dollars annually. In 10 years this Bakery and Confectionery Union and Industry Pension Fund will be worth "anywhere from 75 million to over 125 million dollars," according to pension expert Martin Segal.

WITH SO MUCH MONEY in what really are union funds, there is considerable discussion these days over whether labor will buy into corporations with which it deals. This, too, is a long way from old Sam Gompers' day.

The Bakers are the first to tackle the problem which will become more intense over the years as the funds of all unions begin totalling scores of BILLIONS of dollars. The trustees of the Bakers fund meet in Montreal, probably on Sept. 11, to discuss a formal resolution.

This proposal would legally forbid the fund to invest in any corporation with which the Bakers Union negotiates wage contracts.

FUNNY STORY — The Eisenhower brothers, Earl, left; Edgar, center, and Dwight, find something humorous as they meet at the International Airport in Philadelphia. The President journeyed to Philadelphia to address the 78th annual convention of the American Bar Association. Edgar Eisenhower is a Tacoma, Wash., lawyer; Earl, a La Grange, Ill., publisher.

If it is passed, it will be the first formal move to avert some possible future trend toward labor ownership of industry.

Thus at Labor Day, 1955, union leaders everywhere are meeting with bankers and brokerage house specialists to discuss the investments of billions of dollars. Sam Gompers could have several pairs of shoes were he alive today.

Increase Wholesale Prices Of Coffee

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's two biggest independent coffee roasters raised their wholesale prices Tuesday.

General Foods Corp. increased its Maxwell House brand by three cents a pound and standard brands added three cents to the price of Chase & Sanborn. This brings the wholesale price of both to 91 cents a pound. Trade sources said they expect other roasters to follow suit.

The boosts reflect increases in green coffee prices during the past month. Since late July, both Brazilian and Colombian types have advanced about four cents a pound in New York.

Papers, Police Team To Nab Fugitives

CHICAGO (AP) — Teamwork between Chicago newspapers and police resulted in quick capture of two of the city's 14 most wanted fugitives.

The city's four major newspapers printed pictures of the fugitives in Tuesday's editions. During the day officers seized Edward Burgess, 27, who was No. 2 on the list, and Richard Szurgot, 27, No. 4.

Szurgot was arrested by Sgt. Joseph Meany, who said he saw him standing on a street corner and recognized him from a newspaper picture. Szurgot was wanted for questioning about a strong-arm robbery.

A few hours later Burgess, sought for questioning about robbery and use of narcotics and for escape, was nabbed in a theater.

BACK PAY—Two years ago a tornado hit Cleveland, Ohio, destroying, among many others, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sekerek. So he had something more to worry about than the pay check he had just received. It was tucked in the pocket of his work shirt which he had taken off just before the tornado struck, scattering their home and possessions in all directions. 'Not To Annoy Russians'
An unsigned letter to President Truman, dated July 13, 1946, suggesting "programs for international control of atomic energy for peace and so as not to annoy the Russians."

A copy of a July 18, 1945, letter from White to Prof. Philip Jessup of Columbia University telling of White's interest in creation of "a world center for economic problems at Columbia" and in which he said "I was stimulated in this by my conversation with Prof. Bystroff of the Soviet Embassy."

A War Department order dated July 24, 1944, excepting White from customs inspection because of his diplomatic capacity.

Several "workers' song books," one of which contained the phrase "Lenin, our leader."

Correspondence indicating White had a dinner engagement with Prof. Bystroff and acknowledging a gift of wine and cigarettes from the Soviet Purchasing Commission.

Correspondence in which White urged former Vice President Henry Wallace to form a third party.

Another of Whites papers turned over to the Eastland subcommittee contained a detailed Secret Service report on the theft of secret papers at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco in 1945.

The missing papers carried White's official government number "36." The Secret Service report indicated the missing papers were recovered but did not say where or how.

was signed by Arthur Lourie, deputy director general of Israel's Foreign Ministry, also demanded that Egypt give "guarantees for immediate, complete and definitive cessation of all further hostile acts."

Burns' cease-fire proposal had been backed by appeals from the United States and Britain to end the fighting.

Violence along the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip continued. A total of 21 Israelis and eight Egyptians have been reported killed there since last Thursday.

An Israeli military spokesman said infiltrators had fired at midnight on a military car near Falujah, in southern Israel, wounding one of the occupants.

Israeli sources said two Jews riding in a truck were ambushed and killed on Israel's southern coastal plain north of Gaza last night.

An Israeli army spokesman early today said infiltrators fired on a military vehicle near Savdiel, damaging the car, but the troops were not hurt.

Israel also charged that Egyptian infiltrators blew up a radio tower Monday night near Kubeba, on the coastal plain. A spokesman also reported that infiltrators threw grenades into a house in the Nachalah settlement, wounding one person.

Burns' proposal for a cease-fire was transmitted to Egypt through Col. Salah Gohar, director of the Palestine Department of the Egyptian Ministry of War. A communique said the Egyptian government accepted immediately.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Byrde conferred Tuesday with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi to urge the ceasefire, an Egyptian Foreign Ministry spokesman said.

The resumption of violence in the Gaza region last Thursday followed a breakdown of talks Aug. 24 between Egypt and Israel on easing tension in that area.

and Legislature to get construction started.

The highway department has concentrated on improving the worst sections of major highways and in modernizing stretches to accommodate swollen traffic.

Asserting the size of an improvement lacks importance, Jackson said in a prepared statement: "What is important is how well it fits into the contemplated development of a highway system."

As the program goes on, the projects tend to be larger. . . .

"The council has . . . refused approval for projects or for changes in projects only when it was not satisfied that the proposals fitted into a comprehensive plan for major thoroughfare capital improvements."

To Spend Bond Money
Bond money, limited to 125 million dollar a year for spending, will be used up by the end of 1960, Jackson reported. He said the council now is working up the 1958-59 program.

Legislative leaders indicated approval of the program and final authorization for issuance of highway bonds might mean the end of the road for the council.

Chairman Roger Cloud called for a special Sept. 9 meeting of the Legislative Service Commission, a fact-finding body.

Cloud, Republican speaker of the House, said he would seek creation of a second highway study committee to look into road planning and financing. That would include council operations.

Should the committee recommend an end to the council, a Republican-dominated 1957 Legislature probably would approve, legislators guessed. They conceded that a Democrat-controlled General Assembly might take another course.

The last Legislature asked the commission to study such highway problems as truck weight limits and right-of-way purchases. That committee and others will report to the next Legislature for action. Jackson said he was aware of the possibility the Legislature might dissolve the council. But he expressed belief orderly procedure for highway construction required its continued existence or replacement by a similar body.

Bolstering his assertion, Jackson said the council had classified Ohio's 18,400 miles of highways and added: "You cannot freeze classification."

spotted strategically. Leaflets printed in advance were ready for distribution.

The crowds began to arrive in the plaza soon after Di Pietro spoke. They chanted, sang and waved banners. Some hoisted an Argentine flag on the pole in the plaza's center. Those nearest the government offices chanted "Peron, Peron."

The President arrived at his office at his usual early hour. It appeared that he was waiting for the crowd to grow big enough before stepping out on a balcony to address it.

There was no announcement of his resignation offer from his or any other government office.

Di Pietro warned the workers in his broadcast against violence and outsiders who might infiltrate the gatherings to provoke it.

The general public had no inkling of a crisis afoot until Di Pietro spoke. But in government and labor circles Tuesday night there was unusual activity.

John William Cooke, the Peronista party boss in Buenos Aires, told a party meeting Thursday night the President's followers are prepared to repeat 10 or 20 times the events of Oct. 17, 1945, when thousands of workers staged a nationwide demonstration freeing Peron from prison and vaulting him into the presidency.

The meeting at which Cooke spoke was the second big Peronista rally since the party announced its renewal of political campaigning because the opposition had broken the truce Peron proclaimed last month.

Thus the stage was set for Peron to strengthen his position, seriously weakened after the unsuccessful June 16 revolt staged by navy personnel.

In the past two months there have been seven changes in the Peron Cabinet, while opposition parties have grown bolder with relaxation of restrictions on their activities.

The French plans call for formation of a Moroccan government representing all factions by Sept. 12. This government would then negotiate with the French for reforms relaxing France's tight control of the territory.

Two Men Repay County For Financial Aid
LISBON — At least two men in Columbiana County are appreciative of the financial aid they received from county relief funds during the depression in the 1930's, Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer said today.

Judge said an anonymous East Liverpool man, who said he received $40 from the county in relief funds during the depression, sent that amount in a letter received by the treasurer in today's mail. The letter requested that the money be put back into relief funds "to help others."

Last May, Judge said, a man who wished to remain anonymous gave the treasurer's office $200 to be returned to relief funds for the same reason.

in Berlin Center at 1 p.m. Tuesday when a car driven by Gustave Langties, 64, of RD 1, North Benton pulled from the Lynn Hawkins grocery store parking lot into the path of a westbound truck-trailer by David Vogt, 29, of Allentown, Pa.

In fair condition today at Salem City Hospital is the driver of the car, Gustave Langties, with possible fractured ribs. A passenger in the car, Raymond Langties, 9, received lacerations of the forehead but was not treated. The left side of the car was heavily damaged, patrolmen said.

In a one-car accident occurring on Route 164, just north of Lisbon, at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, an auto driven by Michael D. Connolly Jr., 28, of Glenshaw, Pa., skidded on the wet pavement and struck the bank on the right side of the road when the driver attempted to stop at a stop sign.

Connolly was taken to Salem City Hospital and is in fair condition there today with a possible back injury. The car was only slightly damaged, patrolmen said.

Indians Beat Orioles 7-4, Climb To Within 1/2 Game Of Lead

Bob Lemon Posts 15th Victory; Herb Score To Hurl Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, again only a half game off the pace, hope to beat the Baltimore Orioles again today before facing the Chicago White Sox in a four game series starting Friday.

Parker's Win 'A' Playoff Tilt

Bliss Blasts Eljer, Logue's Win 17-16

Parker's topped Marshall's 4-0 in the first game of the Class A playoffs last night at Kelley Park behind the two-hit pitching of Willie Schuster.

In other games last night the Bliss blasted Eljer 16-6 in the Industrial League and Logue's edged the West End 17-16 as the Girls season ended.

Jim Beard was the big gun for Parker's with four hits. Opening scoring in the second Beard hit to center for two runs and scored on Fridon's hit to give the eventual winners a three run lead.

Beard's hit, a grounder, and George Mordew's hit accounted for the other Parker tally. Shaffer and Chick Ivan garnered the only hits off diminutive Schuster as he pitched one of the best games of the season.

A six-run, six-hit rally in the fifth by Eljer averted a shutout. Bliss got to Henry Miller, the Industrial League's leading hurler, for 13 runs in his two inning stint. Although four errors aided greatly in the seven run first, four walks and clutch hitting by Harry Ehrhart led the game with a 6-run second inning.

The loss left Miller's record at 11-3 while Dillinger moved to a 4-3 season record.

The girls league regular season ended with a nine inning thriller, Logue's finally winning out over West End 17-16.

A walk to Nancy Couchie, the 17th walk issued by three West End hurlers, forced in the tie breaking run in the ninth. Logue's fought uphill with a five run rally in the sixth to go two runs ahead, but hits by Slaby, Lutsch and Provins tied it in the seventh to put the game into overtime.

Both teams committed 10 errors. Provins and Slaby led the 18-hit West End attack while May was the leading batter for Logue's.

Jackson Favored Over Ezzard Charles Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ezzard Charles, confident he can win and stay in the heavyweight title picture, may be a 2-1 underdog in his televised return match with windmill swinging Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson tonight.

The 10 round bout in Cleveland Arena between the 34-year-old champion, who is trying a come back, and the rising, 24-year-old Jackson will be carried nationally at 8 p.m., central standard time, on ABC radio and television network.

Jackson, now third ranking contender for Rocky Marciano's title, upset Charles by a unanimous decision at Syracuse, N.Y., several weeks ago. The odds in the first fight favored Charles 3-1.

Athletics' DeMaestri Hit; Out For While

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics, resolutely short-handed in the infield, lost shortstop Joe DeMaestri through an injury in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's game with the New York Yankees.

Minutes later the A's announced they were calling up Gerald Schypinski, 23-year-old shortstop from the Savannah Club of the South Atlantic League.

A pitch by Tom Morgan struck DeMaestri on the right arm. He was taken to a hospital where first X-rays showed a bad bruise but no break.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

There is much more to fish than fishing and the strange behaviour of fish cannot always be explained. Why do fish bite and why don't they bite is the big question.

On duty at the State Fair, my detail is at the kiddies fishing pond, where truck loads of Channel cats, bullheads and dog-fish have been stocked in chicken wire enclosures within pole reach of the young fishermen.

The first morning after the whistle blew for fishing to begin the kids had the time of their life tossing fish over their heads and into the spectator's faces.

However, there were fish in the 4 pound class that resulted in broken poles or lines and escaping the landing net.

For about an hour and a half I think each young fisherman either hooked onto a fish or landed from one to 12, depending upon individual skill and luck. The state furnished night crawlers and shrimp for bait.

One youngster had a different idea and brought along his favorite catfish bait. He caught the largest stringer of 12 that averaged 2 pounds each. The bait he used was chicken entrails.

After the first 1 1/2 hours of fishing very few fish were caught the rest of the day. Another truck load was added and fishing is just mediocre. This is proof positive to me that what happens to fish when you keep on and on dumping more and more fish into a lake. These fish are educated already. The refuse to bite and increasing the number does not help. Continual stocking is not the answer to good fishing in the fair pond so why can we believe that continual stocking will help any lake or pond?

ONE OF THE most exciting and interesting exhibits on the fair grounds is the Division of Wildlife beaver pond that is an artificial replica of the natural habitat of beavers that includes a hut, dam and flowing water over the dam. The boys who designed this exhibit visited up my way to see what the beavers construct and how they did it.

The studio setting they finally came up with looks like the real thing and four live beavers have been added. Two were trapped in Ashtabula County, one in Carroll County and a small "kit" from Columbiana County. People down around Columbus are getting their first look at beavers.

The baby beaver is putting on quite a show. One of the attendants has managed to make a pet out of him and he is now nibbling tid-bits while being held in hand. Even the older beavers do not object too seriously when a spectator rubs his back. But the two older beavers roughed each other up when the yfirst met and we wondered if they should not be separated. Now they evidently have decided to live and let live and quit fighting.

The little "kit" has lots of fun riding "piggy back" on the older beavers back and they pay no attention to it. He also has fun chasing apples floating in the pool and bats them around something like a kitten with a ball of yarn. One thing I have learned how to make a beaver exhibit and come next year it will be a must at the Columbiana County Fair, providing the sportsmen continue what they have done this year.

I feel that I can do more good staying at home and helping out with our local fair among local people.

WE NEED AT LEAST 50 instructors to teach hunter safety in this county this coming winter and spring. The Salem Hunting Club presented certificates and medals to 36 boys last Friday night after they had successfully completed the course. This can never be overdone and the job can never be completed on a county-wide basis unless more qualified instructors are available.

I think it would be a splendid gesture if all the sportsmen organizations sent their own members to take this two day training and let the club pick up the tab. Surely good sportsmen want to make a contribution to the younger generation because your boy or the other fellows' boys will receive the benefit and hunting safely is very important.

Swaps, Nashua Set For Race

Winner Gets $100,000 Purses For Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Nashua from the East and Swaps from the West—possibly the most brilliant 3-year-olds ever to be matched—take off today in what should rank as one of the greatest showdowns in thoroughbred racing history.

They will settle sophomore honors and undoubtedly Horse of the Year recognition in a $100,000 winner-take-all race at 1 1/4 miles on Washington Park's "neutral" dirt oval.

Each will pack 126 pounds—the same impost, the same distance, and the same jockeys as in their only other 1955 meeting—the Kentucky Derby. In that race, Nashua with Eddie Arcaro up challenged strongly in midstretch only to be swept on a 1 1/4-length triumph in 2:01.8.

Since then, William Woodward Jr.'s Nashua has won the Preakness, Belmont, Dwyer and Arlington Classic for a sophomore record of eight triumphs in nine starts and winnings of $589,700, just $119,707 short of Citation's record as a 3-year-old.

The California-bred Swaps, owned by Rex C. Ellsworth, in the meantime added the Will Rogers, Californian, the Westerner and the American Derby to his list, compiling a record of eight straight victories as a 3-year-old, and earnings of $418,550.

Significant in Swaps' streak was the California June 11 at Hollywood Park when Jockey Dave Erb, subbing for the grounded Shoe maker, beat the 1954 Kentucky Derby winner Determine and other older horses by 1 1/4 lengths for the mile and one sixteenth in 1:40.4. It was an American record for the distance.

The match race contenders have worked in spectacular fashion for the showdown and are considered in peak condition. This, parlayed with a forecast of fair and pleasant weather, plus a possible fast track, added up to a "natural" for the race.

The race will be televised and broadcast at 5 p.m., EST, by CBS. Odds list Swaps at 3-5 and Nashua 6-5.

OLD RELIABLE — Pee Wee Reese will be 36 this month, but the shortstop is having one of his finest years with the Dodgers.

U.S. Amateur Golf Tournament Finals Carded At Richmond

By The Associated Press

A lot of familiar names will be missing when play starts at Richmond, Va., Sept. 12 in the 55th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship. But there's one real old-timer ready to stand off the youth movement.

Results of Tuesday's sectional qualifying rounds in 30 locations throughout the nation showed youth moving to the front and center. Then, right in the middle of the kids appeared the name of Johnny Dawson.

It takes a veteran to remember that Dawson, now a 52-year-old real estate broker in Napa, Calif., was a top-flight amateur golfer back in Bobby Jones' heyday—the 1920's. But Tuesday he stirred up memories as he shot rounds of 71-67-138 to lead the northern California qualifying field at Modesto.

Dawson's score wasn't the best of the day as nearly 1,500 golfers shot 36 holes each at 30 locations and Hammer continued mixing it.

in an effort to win one of the 187 places still open. But it tied him with three others for third place.

The only better totals on a day when bad weather in many sections produced high scoring were a 132 by Hillman Robbins, 23-year old clogger from Memphis, and 136 by wisecracking Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N.C. Robbins shot 66-66 at Memphis and Patton 67-69 at Greensboro, N.C.

Last year winner, Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., won't defend the title. He's a professional now.

HAMMER IS VICTOR
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mike Hammer, 182 1/2, Detroit, outpointed Hans Friedrich, 196 1/2, Dartmouth, Germany, in 10 rounds Tuesday.

Friedrich started fast, taking the first two rounds with stiff left jabs. The Detroit began to find the range in the third, slamming the German's mid-section. Friedrich's nose started bleeding in the fourth and Hammer continued mixing it.

Chicago Back In 1st Place In Hot American League Race

Kansas City Spills New York As Chisox, Cleveland Win

By ED WISLKS

The Associated Press

No matter who wins the pennant, the American League idol will have a play and a glass chin. The four contenders, one of whom has to serve as champ, have been tagged with a sucker punch in 10 of their last 18 games with the second division, and a pretty scrawny second division at that.

Seventh-place Washington and last-place Baltimore banged the Chicago White Sox against the ropes last week, winning four of seven. Then Washington barred Cleveland's way to the top Sunday with a double-header sweep.

And last night, Kansas City, 24 games deep in sixth place dropped New York 4-3, spilling the Yankees from first place into a second-place tie with Cleveland. With that assist, the White Sox moved a half game ahead with a 7-5 decision over Boston.

Sox In First

The White Sox didn't ride into the lead on a white charger. They backed in with five unearned runs. Cleveland, meanwhile, stopped the nonsense and moved up with a 7-4 triumph over Baltimore—but had the help of eight walks that became four runs.

Chicago, playing one less game than either New York or Cleveland for a five-percentage-point edge, tied it at 4-4 in the fourth with the first two gift runs. Then they put it away with the other three unearned runs while reliever Milard Howell checked Boston on three hits over the last five frames.

Williams Leads Boston

Ted Williams, whose double opened a 4-3 Boston lead, booted a liner by Nelson Fox for a two-base error to set up the final Chicago run in the sixth. George Kell followed with a two-run triple and Minnie Mino knocked in the gravity marker with a single.

New York bunched three of its five hits off Alex Kellner to tie the A's at 3-3 in the fifth. Then Hee Lopez gave Alex his 10th victory with a home run off loser Bob Grim in the bottom half of the frame.

Rookie Rip Coleman started for the Yanks but gave way in the third when Vic Power homered. Gus Zernial doubled and Harry Simpson singled for a 3-1 Kansas City lead.

Bob Lemon won his 15th for the Indians, but gave up 12 hits and needed help from Don Mossi to get the final out.

Jim Wilson lost it, giving away the eight passes before leaving in the eighth. Al Smith homered after one of the walks. Then the Tribe needed a walk, single and error for a 3-3 tie in the fifth before two walks and three singles got the Indians home safe in the sixth.

Hoelt Posts Win

Billy Hoelt granted just four singles for his 14th victory as Detroit beat Washington 4-0 in the other AL game. Bill Tuttle and Frank House hit two-run homers off loser Pete Ramos.

In the National, Brooklyn went 13 games in front by beating Milwaukee 8-6 as Don Newcombe finally won his 19th; New York ended a five-game slump with a 5-0, 9-7 sweep of Cincinnati; Chicago's Cubs clipped Philadelphia 3-1; and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 3-1 after the Cards had wrapped up a 1-0 verdict in the completion of a suspended game.

Campanella Homers

Newcombe, 0-3 since July 31, gave up two-run homers by Bobby Thomson and Johnny Logan, but led 8-4 when he gave way to a back ache after six innings. Roy Campanella homered twice.

The Giants had four unearned runs in the first game. In the nightcap, the Redlegs' Ted Kluszewski upped his major league home run lead to 43 with a pair, while New York's Willie Mays hit two to the Duke Snider for second place with 40.

Reliever Hal Jeffcoat saved Sam Jones' 12th victory after Sad Sam had walked the bases loaded with one out in the eighth at Philadelphia. Jim Bolger's triple and singles by Harry Chiti and Dee Fondy gave it to the Cubs in the sixth after Sol Rogovin had retired 15 in order, making a total of 32 batters he had set down in succession in two games.

Harvey Haddix, who won the suspended game, lost the regularly scheduled contest as the Pirates scored three runs in the sixth. Ramon Mejias' two-run triple was the big blow against the Cardinals' lefty.

Indians, Cards Win Summer Park Basketball Championships

The Indians with an 11-2 record won the championship of the senior basketball league at the Centennial Park outdoor basketball court this summer, playground director Sam Pridon announced this morning. The Cardinals posted a 7-2 mark to win the junior league crown.

Jerry Myers, David Baird, Richard Beall, Mark Fenton, Darryl Adams, Bob Julian and Dale Middeker were Indian team members. Playing for the Cardinals were Vaughn Harshman, Tony Everett, George Church, Jerry Hilliard, Richard Huffman and Junior Petrucci.

Over 1200 boys participated in the summer basketball program over a five week period, three nights a week, Pridon said. Harry Baird led the senior league in the scoring department with a total of 186 points in 10 games for an average of 18.6 points per game. Richard Hunter and Jack Alexander followed in order with 118 and 100 points respectively in eight games each.

Hilliard led the scoring in the junior league with a total of 99 points in six games for an average of 16.2 points per game. Danny Krichbau followed Hilliard with 81 markers in five games for a 16.2 average.

Harshman and Snyder followed with 82 and 77 points respectively. As total attendance of 7,639 was recorded for the playgrounds this summer, Pridon said, including 1200 in the basketball leagues and 1,125 in the tennis classes.

Three playgrounds were operated this summer at the Park, Buckeye School and Prospect with a total attendance of 5,314 children. Gyll Floding of South Lincoln Ave. won the tennis championship at Centennial Park, Pridon said.

Teddy Davis Decisions

Jorgensen In 10-Rounder

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A whistling left hook and the ring experience that comes only with a thousand steps through the ropes carried Teddy (Red Top) Davis, 127, to a split decision over tough, determined Paul Jorgensen, 126, Tuesday night.

Jorgensen, the 20-year-old Houstonian, almost counterpunched his way past the nation's No. 1 featherweight challenger from Hartford, Conn.

Referee Charley Roque gave the fight to Jorgensen 96-95, while Judge Lee Sorelle saw it 94-93 for Davis and Judge Bill Cornelius 97-95 for Davis.

Nelson Captures Trophy Again

Wins International 'Most Valuable' Award

By The Associated Press

Glenn Nelson, Montreal's slugging first baseman, is taking a stranglehold on the International League most valuable player award, capturing the trophy two out of the three times he has been eligible for it.

Nelson yesterday became the first man in the 24-year history of the award to receive it twice. He did it before in 1953, his first season in the league.

The 30-year-old native of Portsmouth, Ohio, garnered 21 of the 28 first place votes of the league's Baseball Writers' Assn. His total of 215 points gave him a clear cut margin over Toronto's Archie Wilson, who polled 177 points. Spook Jacobs of Columbus had 155 points.

Nelson currently is making a runaway of the league batting race, hitting a lustrous .369, some 40 points above his nearest competitor. His 34 home runs, 123 runs batted in and 109 runs scored also are tops.

Last season Nelson lost out on the MVP but still managed to lead the circuit with 31 home runs.

MEET WITH FRICK

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of all teams still in contention in the Major League pennant races met today with baseball commissioner Ford Frick to make plans for the world series.

The series is scheduled to start in the American League city on Sept. 28. The first two games will be played there, the next three at the National League park, and the final two, if necessary, at the American League field.

Minoso Batting At .430 Clip To Lead Chisox Pennant Drive

By JOE MOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnie Minoso's bat is the hottest it's ever been and one of the big reasons the Chicago White Sox are on top in the torrid American League race.

Minnie slapped out two hits Tuesday night to run his consecutive game hitting streak to 3 as the White Sox blasted the Boston Red Sox, 7-5, to take over first place by one-half game while the New York Yankees were losing to Kansas City, 4-3.

"This is hottest I've ever been," said Minnie, "and I'm glad." Minoso has been belting the ball at a .430 clip in the last 33 games and has raised his average from .257 to a current .297.

"They say I no good after getting hit in eye at New York last May but I show them. I only get hit, nobody keel me," said Minnie. "Eet was bad early in season. Minnie no hit, crowds boo and Minnie worry. I even go to eye doctor to see if something wrong but he say get out of here, nothing wrong with you."

"Finally I say to Minnie, you no kid, you professional. So instead of worry I got up there to hit and I do pretty good."

"Team take movies of me and I see I go for bad balls and I get hitch. So stop all those things and I start to heat."

"I say to myself, pull ball and everything be okay. Pay no attention to boos. So I heat and now heating better than anytime in my life. No more boos and no more talk about Minnie get heat in head. I never scare."

White Sox manager Marty Marion pointed to his mail box and said "I had a lot of letters early in the season to bench Minoso. But we decided to string along with him. I haven't had a letter to take him out in a long time." During his current streak, Minoso has raised his average some 40 percentage points, knocked out nine doubles, four triples and three homers and has 17 runs batted in. If the 30-year-old Cuban Comet can keep it up in the stretch drive it could mean a pennant for Chicago.

Hamilton Will Represent Ohio In Softball Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Hudepohl Beers, who won the state ASA softball championship last night, will represent Ohio in the regional tournament here starting Friday.

The Hamilton team beat the Columbus Falter Packers in the title game, 5-2, with three runs in the seventh inning. Hamilton pitcher Wade Fannin, who relieved starter Cleveland Pendergrass in the first inning, shut out Columbus on no hits. Both Columbus runs came off Pendergrass, who walked three, hit two and allowed two hits.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three Youngstown golfers, one from Zanesville and one from greater Cleveland qualified yesterday to represent northern Ohio in the National Amateur Golf championship.

They are Eddie Meister, Kirtland, who shot 70-74-14 over the par-70 Oakwood Club course; Bob McCall, Youngstown, 70-75-145; Bob Rankin, Zanesville, 74-71-145; Fred Jones, Youngstown, 73-73-146, and Steve Pipoly, Youngstown, 78-70-148.

Minneapolis Wins AAA Pennant; Trims Omaha

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minneapolis has sewed up the American Association flag for 1955, to nobody's great surprise.

The Millers clinched the regular season pennant by trimming Omaha, 5-3, last night, leaving a last-ditch battle for the remaining three playoff berths.

Elsewhere about the league, Louisville nudged Toledo, 3-2 Denver thumped St. Paul, 10-6, and the Saints came back to take the second half of a doubleheader, 6-4, and Indianapolis squeaked past Charleston, 3-2. This left Louisville and Denver deadlocked for second place, 9½ games behind Minneapolis, and Toledo and Omaha tied for third, 10½ games out of first.

LONG GAINER — Terry Brennan drives the 183-yard fourth hole at the Sun Valley, Ida., course. Notre Dame's 26-year-old football head man was at the resort for the Idaho State Coaching Clinic.

Saddest Obituary

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—For as long as he could remember, 11-year-old Danny Essoyan dreamed of seeing America.

Danny, whose grandparents were stateless refugees from Armenia, was born in Shanghai and raised in Hawaii. His father, Roy, an Associated Press newsman in Honolulu, won his U. S. citizenship a few years ago, and it was hard to tell who was prouder that day, father or son.

This summer Roy came to New York in advance of his assignment to the Moscow A. P. bureau. For Danny this was exciting news: On the way to Russia he would at last get to see the United States. He did see it. He saw it for three wonderful weeks. And then he died—suddenly and unexpectedly—at the height of his happiness. Death came to Danny on Aug. 1.

After he buried Danny here in the land of his boyhood dreams, Roy Essoyan went to his typewriter and wrote the saddest obituary of his newspaper career:

"This is a tribute to the most wonderful boy in the world, my son. He was unique, as every boy is unique—for each is the most wonderful child in the world.

"The great outdoors was his playground and the blue Pacific his swimming pool. He loved to romp in the surf. He was shy and slim but strong-chested and deeply tanned.

"Danny spent his first couple of days in New York City riding up and down the hotel elevator, making friends with the bellboys, running errands for his mother and baby sister, Catherine.

"He explored the 5-and-10 cent stores, the Central Park Zoo, the busy street near the hotel. He went to the Museum of Natural History twice and wandered open-mouthed around the Hayden Planetarium. He went with us to the musical, 'Silk Stockings,' a special treat, and stood agog at Times Square at midnight. At times he baby-sat for Catherine, changed her diapers and helped feed her. He took time out from all the exciting things he had to do to play with her.

"Danny went to Rockefeller Plaza, rode the subway and the Staten Island ferry, saw the Statue of Liberty and walked down Fifth avenue.

"A week after we moved out to Bayville, on the shore, he went aquaplaning in Long Island and stood up the first attempt. The day before his allotted time on earth ran out he was a picture of sturdy GETS TEN YEARS—Lora Lee (Toni) Ritenour, 17, girl friend of bank robber Louis Teller, was sentenced to federal prison for ten years. Teller earlier was sentenced to 25 years by the same judge in Cleveland. Mrs. Ritenour, who pleaded guilty in the $23,000 bank robbery, is four months pregnant.

health and boyish joy, as he had been in the morning and he stayed indoors. Later he ran out to help the boats that had been battered by the gale.

"Mid-afternoon he came in, glowing with pride in the work he had done. And we were proud of him. Then he went with us for a drive to Sagamore Hill, President Theodore Roosevelt's old home. When we came back, he said he had a sore throat and a headache. He took an aspirin and went to bed. He had some temperature, but not enough to mar his cheerful singsong bedtime ritual, 'Good Night. Sleep tight, don't let the bedbugs bite, wake up in the morning bright.'

"The next morning his fever was worse, but he looked out the window and asked if he could go outside and play soon. An hour later, in the ambulance on the way to the hospital, Danny's life came to its unbelievably early end. Practically before we had time to be frightened, Danny and all the hopes and dreams that Danny was were gone.

"Danny lived always in the immediate future, what he could do tonight, where he could go tomorrow, what did we plan next week. He was a quiet boy and did not talk much of things far away, the life ahead of him, growing up and learning to be a man. And now... Danny will never be a man. "The doctor said it was a sudden overwhelming virus infection—a virus we all carry with us. But for some unexplainable reason this sturdy boy's immunity slipped momentarily.

"We know it is God's will. He gave Danny to us. And for some reason known only to God, he took him away. All there is of Danny now is what is in our hearts and the hearts of all who knew him.

"His sweetness and gentleness is now a part of all of us, and may God make us the better for it. For when you leave this world what better heritage can you leave than the knowledge that you gave yourself to all who knew you? As one dear friend said, we must all be thankful to Danny for he gave us all great joy."

To Drill Well At Pump Station

Ask Citizens To Use Small Amount Water

LEETONIA.—The Board of Public Affairs has authorized drilling of a new well at the pumping station in an effort to alleviate the water shortage the village has been experiencing for the past several weeks.

Grim Brothers of Homeworth have been awarded the contract for the drilling and started work on it Monday.

Of the three wells supplying water for the village, two are reportedly dry, leaving but one well to supply the water demands of the community. Board officials are asking all water consumers in the village to observe the water ban that was imposed recently. The Board urges all local residents to refrain from washing cars, sprinkling lawns or using water for any reason except when absolutely necessary.

L.C.B.A. will meet at the K. of C. Hall tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. for a meeting.

Feature of the evening will be a "silent auction." Everyone is to bring an unwrapped gift for the auction.

Mrs. Rosa Cox entertained at dinner Thursday in honor of her niece, Mrs. Mabel Wilson and children, Jerry, Barbara, Peggy and Mary Jane of Oskaloosa, Iowa. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Anderson of Akron, Mrs. Orvan Baker and son Gary of Alliance and Mrs. Frank Sturgeon and family of Elkton.

Mrs. Zella Dempsey of Canton is visiting her sister, Mrs. Tillie McNulty.

The Frauen Verein will meet at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Middleton, Pearl St. Thursday afternoon.

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a benefit card party Thursday evening at their hall. Prizes will be awarded and lunch will be served.

A "dutch treat" meeting of the Priscilla Club of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be held in the church parlor Thursday evening with Mrs. Orrin Deffenbaugh and Mrs. T. P. Laughner serving.

Elephant, In Dallas Zoo Since 1913, Dies

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—Queen, an elephant at the Marsalis Park Zoo who has been pleasing crowds in Dallas since 1913, died Tuesday at the zoo. Federal Judge William H. Atwell bought Queen in Kansas City some 42 years ago. He raised the money by selling "elephant meat" in Dallas at $1 a pound. Queen was between 65-75 years old when she died.

Problem Older Than The Republic

Surplus Farm Goods Haunt American Economy, Diplomacy

The U. S. government is buying up vast quantities of surplus cotton, wheat, corn, rice and dairy products, and is paying out some $20,000 an hour in storage costs.

The result is a king-size headache afflicting politicians, economists and diplomats alike.

To tell the story behind that headache AP reporter Warren Rogers, Jr., has written a three part series.

By WARREN ROGER JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The specter of surplus farm goods haunting the American economy is casting a pall as well over American diplomacy and American politics.

The problem is older than the republic. It grows bigger by the day, and no ready solution is in sight.

A quarter century before the American Revolution the colonial government of Virginia bought up and burned an extra heavy tobacco crop to keep the price from going down.

The U. S. government 200 years later still follows this basic price-propping pattern. But it no longer destroys surplus farm goods. It puts them away, at the staggering over-all storage cost of $20,000 an hour.

Where did it all come from—this five billion dollars in excess cotton, wheat, corn, rice, dairy products and other commodities? What's to become of it?

What would happen if all the U. S. surplus were unloaded at fire sale prices? At home, the farm economy would be knocked into a cocked hat. Abroad, exporting countries whose friendships the United States badly needs would be infuriated, perhaps alienated for good, at the sight of their own markets gone glimmering.

And no politician is likely on the eve of the 1956 Presidential year, to forget 1948. That was the year of Harry S. Truman's surprise presidential victory, due in great part to a switch of disgruntled Republican votes in the 11 Midwest farm states.

The ironic truth about the cause of the surplus is that American farmers, with the government underwriting them against the vagaries of nature, are too efficient. Cotton, a chronic headache, is a classic example:

"To hold down cotton production this year we cut the allotted cotton land to 18 million acres — 14 per cent below last year," one government official recalled.

"Well, the cotton farmer bought a little more fertilizer, got another tractor and more bug killer. Now we're expecting a record yield per acre, throwing total production to within 7 per cent of 1954."

The law directs that the six basic commodities—corn, cotton, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts — must be federally supported at between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity. This means a farmer who co-operates by accepting acreage allotments and marketing quotas will have his produce taken off his hands by the government any time he can't get at least the support price for it in the market place.

In addition to the six basics, tung nuts, honey, dairy products, wool and mohair must be supported at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Other commodities are similarly supported as appropriate for.

the farmer is that he is considered basic to the economy. Letting his purchasing power slip might start a general down-spiral.

One Agriculture Department official said:

"Wheat looks pretty good. We have production in balance with consumption. Our wheat surplus is no longer growing."

"Unless Congress raises the support price — and remember next year is an election year — we can hold the line and wait for a short crop, either here or in a big producer like Canada. Then we could draw off our surplus."

"The livestock industry is eating us out of the corn surplus. The dairy situation is no longer grim. Our only real headaches are cotton and rice."

Cotton is pesky because of competition. It must compete with foreign cotton and all other fibers as well — especially the synthetics like rayon and the new "miracle" fabrics.

Rice simply has no place to go. The American people generally don't care for it, and in areas like Southeast Asia where it is a staple there are friendly nations, such as Burma, already producing it in surplus.

The reason for all this help to

Taft Raps High Tariff Backers

Says U.S. Chemical Firms Profit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Low-tariff advocate Charles P. Taft points a protectionist finger at the United States chemical, bicycle and power plant generating equipment industries.

Taft, a Cincinnati lawyer who heads the committee for a national trade policy, told the annual convention of the American Soybean Assn. last night that the center of high tariff sentiment "is in the chemical industry."

"While our tariffs in general have been greatly reduced in 25 years, this is not true of chemical tariffs," he said. "They make possible the fact that the chemical industry has the highest rate of return of any industry before taxes. Reduction in tariffs would not increase our imports greatly, but it would reduce the margin of profit of the chemical companies."

Taft categorized the bicycle industry as a "thoroughly inefficient" one. The recent tariff increase on bicycles, he said, will help the inefficient producers.

"It will not do anything to the imported light bicycles except raise their prices for the kids," he said.

He cited power plant generating equipment as a third sample of the country's international trade problem. He said 100 million dollars worth a year is bought for U. S. installations in western dams and four and five billion dollars worth is purchased by American utilities.

Taft, son of the 27th president of the United States, William Howard, and brother of the late senator from Ohio, Robert, said President Eisenhower's general tariff position was sound and sincere "but nobody at the top in the administration stands up and fights" for tariff reduction.

Must Give Safety Talks For Starting Blaze

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A 26-year-old physical education instructor, who U. S. Forest Service officials say accidentally started a $500,000 forest fire with a camp stove, Tuesday was ordered to make 20 public talks on fire safety as a condition of probation.

Municipal Judge Richard C.

Fildew also fined Bernard V. Buck $100, suspending a six-month county jail sentence. Buck pleaded guilty to a charge of violating county fire ordinances.

District Ranger Carl Wilson said the three-day fire last month blackened 420 acres of watershed in the Angeles National Forest. Buck is a teacher at Pacific College in Los Angeles.

Motorcycle Kicks Back

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP) — Officer A. F. Blackshore limped into Mercy Hospital's emergency room. "I kicked my motorcycle," the officer told attendants.

"It kicked back," he explained before submitting to treatment for cuts and bruises on his leg.

Sinatra Silent On Suit For Million Dollars

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Frank Sinatra is back in California, with nothing to say about the million-dollar suit filed against him in New York by 20th Century-Fox Studios.

He flew in Tuesday night and parried all inquiries with a curt "See my lawyers."

He did, however, say Gordon Macrae "is a good man and should do fine" in "Carousel," the film Sinatra walked out on last week at Boothbay, Maine.

Sinatra claimed he had been required to work on two films at once. Fox explained the picture is being shot in two processes but denied this meant two films.
